9 ARE DEAD AND 30 HURT IN CAR CRASH

Interurban Trolley Cars, Crowded With People, Collide Near Detroit.

CONFUSION OF ORDERS CAUSED THE COLLISION

Motorman, Whose Mistake Caused the Accident, Paid With His Life—The Heavy Cars Came Together With Terrific Impact.

Detroit, Mich., April 28.—Two large interurban trolley cars, on the Detroit, Jackson and Chicago railway, a part of the Detroit United Railways System, running from Detroit to Jackson, collided head-on this afternoon, while running about 45 miles an hour, twenty-five miles west of here, near Ypsilanti. Nine men were killed, and about thirty men and women injured, some of them seriously. A mistake in orders on the part of Motorman Isa Fay, of the limited car, who was crushed to death beneath his vestibule, is alleged to have caused the collision. It is charged that he overran his orders.

The Dead.

MOTORMAN ISA FAY, Jackson.
JOHN PAGET, Detroit.
CHARLES CARMEN, Detroit.
GEORGE E. HOWARD, Detroit.
JACK McMULLEN, tailor, Syracuse, N. Y.
GARBORINO GRONNI, Detroit.
THREE UNIDENTIFIED MEN.

Four of the injured are in a critical condition tonight in the hospital here.

The limited car, comfortably filled with about forty people, left Ypsilanti at 2:17 o'clock for Detroit. The running time of the car was changed today, and reduced, so that Motorman Fay left Ypsilanti ten minutes earlier than he had been accustomed. Instead of stopping at Harris Switch, about two miles west of the scene of the accident, where, it is said by the officials of the road, the cars should have passed, the limited rushed by the crossing point at high speed.

With Terrific Impact.

As it rounded a curve four miles east of Ypsilanti the local car flashed into view, also running at high speed. It was a hopeless effort to try and stop the heavy cars, and they crashed together with a terrific impact. Motorman Wingrove, of the local car, jumped when he saw that the collision was inevitable, but Motorman Fay stuck to his vestibule. The local car was built higher than the limited, so that as they met, its body rode up over the heavy flooring and ironwork of the limited, and telescoped it for nearly thirty feet. Despite the terrific force of the collision, the wrecked limited stayed on the rails. Hardly a passenger escaped injuries of some sort, bruises and cuts from broken glass were general among those who had escaped more serious wounds. A relief car was sent to the scene from Ypsilanti, and carried the severely injured to the hospital at Ann Arbor.

LEONARD HAAS IS CHOSEN.

Atlanta Man One of Officers of Order B'Nai B'rith.

Wilmington, N. C., April 28.—District Grand Lodge, No. 5, Independent Order B'nai B'rith, adjourned its thirty-fourth annual convention here today to meet in Savannah, Ga., the third Monday in March, 1909, at which time the grand lodge will go to Atlanta to attend the twentieth anniversary exercises of the Hebrew Orphans' Home there. Officers elected are:

President, Henry S. Hutzler, Richmond, Va.; first vice president, Montague Triest, Charleston; second vice president, Leonard Haas, Atlanta, Ga.; secretary, Joseph L. Levy, Richmond, Va.; treasurer, A. Goodman, Baltimore; sergeant at arms, M. W. Jacob, Wilmington.

NEGRO STABBED MOTORMAN.

Motorman at Birmingham Killed While on Duty.

Birmingham, Ala., April 28.—W. H. Watkins, a motorman on the Avondale electric line, was stabbed through the heart and instantly killed tonight by a negro while on duty as the car was passing Twenty-fifth street and Avenue F.

Little is known about how the quarrel started. Conductor Courington ran to the front of the car as the negro jumped to the ground and threw him to the ground. The negro, however, finally got away.

FRUIT WAS HURT BY STORM.

Much Damage Done in Floyd County by Wind.

Rome, Ga., April 28.—(Special.)—"What the frost left, the wind destroyed," said a prominent fruit man in Rome yesterday. It is estimated that the terrible wind of Friday night bruised or blew off at least half or two-thirds of the peaches remaining on the trees in Floyd county. Notwithstanding the damaging reports sent out as to frost nipping the fruit, there remained a large crop on most of the orchards, but the present remnant does not promise more than one-fourth of a crop. Apples, plum trees, pears and all other kinds of fruit suffered in the same proportion with the peaches. Oats and growing crops were also sufferers, not from the wind, but from the hail and heavy rain.

BOOTY WORTH $18,000 SECURED BY BANDITS

Four Armed Men Hold Up Guards Conveying Money to Pay Off Miners—Posses Are in Pursuit of the Robbers.

Bluefield, W. Va., April 28.—Four armed men today held up guards who were conveying $18,000 from Welch to Gary, W. Va., to pay off the employees of the United States Coal and Coke Company, a subsidiary company of the United States Steel Corporation. The money had been shipped by the McDowell County National bank, at Welch. There is no clew to the robbers, but a sheriff's posse is scouring the surrounding country.

General Superintendent O'Toole, of the coal company, has offered a reward of $1,000 for the capture of the robbers, and at least one thousand stopped work and joined in the pursuit. The robbers disappeared in the direction of Big Four, W. Va., after a running fight with the men they had held up. A small boy onlooker was struck by two bullets, but not seriously wounded.

2,000 PEOPLE MASSACRED AND 36 VILLAGES PILLAGED

Teheran, Persia, April 28.—Dispatches were read in parliament today stating that the Kurds around Urumiah, a town of Persian Armenia, had pillaged thirty-six villages and massacred 2,000 people.

LET ELEPHANT GIVE WAY TO DOG

As the Emblem of the G. O. P., Suggests Leake.

DOG BETTER THAN ELEPHANT

Because It Can Bark and Wag Its Tail at the Same Time "So That No One Is Able to Know Which End to Believe."

Washington, April 28.—Ostensibly considering the sundry civil appropriation bill, the house devoted most of its time today to speeches covering a wide range of subjects and concluded the session by giving an attentive hearing to the president's special message. When the portion of the message referring to the multimillionaire "whose son is a fool and his daughter a foreign princess" was reached there was a storm of applause equally prominent on both sides of the house.

Mr. Leake, of New Jersey, gave some caustic remarks on the president, evoking applause on the democratic side. Mr. Leake criticized President Roosevelt as desiring to perpetuate himself in office by procuring the election of a proxy. He conceded even more than enough ability to the president, but declared that he lacked dignity and poise. He would have the emblem of the republican party changed from an elephant to a dog if the present conditions were to continue, because the dog can both bark and wag its tail at the same time, "so that no one is able to know which end to believe."

Sumptuary laws, and especially the shutting out from army posts of the canteen car were the subjects of remarks by Mr. Goebel, of Ohio.

Predicting that "Roosevelt policies" would prevail at the next national republican convention, Mr. Madison, of Kansas, paid a glowing tribute to the president, declaring that his forestry achievements alone had realized "the dream of the ages."

The great advantage the country would reap from the manufacture of all of its cotton instead of sending two-thirds of that product abroad, was the subject of a stirring speech by Mr. Byrd, of Mississippi. By abandoning protective tariff principles, Mr. Byrd believed that result would be achieved.

Need for further educational restriction in immigration was discussed by Mr. Burnett, of Alabama, who deprecated the condition of immigrants from Southern Italy.

Mr. Aiken, of South Carolina, advocated the passage of his bill to limit the jurisdiction of federal control over interstate commerce to permit states to control the liquor traffic within their borders.

Representative Keifer discussed pension legislation and directed caustic criticism towards bills introduced by his colleague, General Sherwood. Later, Mr. Ansberry, of Ohio, in a brief speech, defended pension measures presented by General Sherwood, and expressed regret that two veterans of the war should be at odds over pension legislation.

Other speeches were made by Representatives Hitchcock, of Nebraska; Vreeland, of New York, and Hamlin, of Missouri.

At 5:05 the house took a recess until 11:30 o'clock tomorrow.

DRANK CARBOLIC ACID.

Street Car Conductor Killed Himself at Birmingham.

Birmingham, Ala., April 28.—John A. Watts, a street car conductor, committed suicide tonight by drinking carbolic acid. He had just stepped from the car after his day's work when he pulled the bottle from his pocket and swallowed the contents, dying soon afterward. It is understood that he had been told earlier in the day not to report for work tomorow.

Preparing for Fair.

Augusta, Ga., April 28.—(Special.)—The directors of the Georgia-Carolina Fair Association met last night to make further preparations for the next fall fair. The split between the farmers' clubs and the fair association was not bridged over, and the fair people will put on the agricultural exhibit without the clubs' aid. The Augusta Poultry association was offered $750 to put on its show at the fair, with an additional $250 if the finances warrant it. The offer will probably be accepted.

MOTHER SLAIN WITH CHILDREN

And the House Fired in Order to Conceal Crime.

WOMAN'S LOVER IS ACCUSED

Lamphere Was Infatuated with Beautiful Mrs. Gunnen and It Is Believed He Committed Crime Because She Scorned His Suit

La Porte, Ind., April 28.—The removal of four charred bodies, the blackened forms of three children huddled about that of the mother as if for protection, the arrest of Ray Lamphere, formerly employed by Mrs. Belle Gunness, the victim, and the collapse of Lamphere at the jail tonight, has caused excitement in La Porte that may at any moment break forth in mob violence.

Mrs. Gunness lived on her farm near here with three children. At 4 o'clock this morning Joseph Maxwell, an employee on the place, was awakened by smoke. He made every effort to rescue the family, but failed. Late today the bodies of Mrs. Gunness and her three children, Myrtle, aged 11; Lucy, aged 9, and Philip, aged 5, were removed from the smouldering ruins. There was a rumor that the home had been fired because of malice, and as the day advanced the police took up the story and began an investigation, which resulted in the arrest of Lamphere tonight.

Lamphere had been employed on the Gunness farm and was infatuated with Mrs. Gunness, who was a beautiful woman. She declared that the man annoyed her, and filed proceedings to have him declared insane, but a jury found him sane.

Officers are on the alert tonight to prevent violence.

PREFERRED CELL IN JAIL TO MOTHER-IN-LAW'S HOME

Police Sergeant Offered to Free Bridegroom, but He Said "Lock Me Up."

From time immemorial mere man has popularly been supposed to be in deadly terror of his mother-in-law. Strong men who would risk death in the very cannon's mouth have been known to quail and quake and crumple up at the crook of mother-in-law's finger, when strange enough, the sons of that same woman accounted her the mildest of women.

It would seem that the humorists and the sober-minded chroniclers of serious fact had about exhausted the mother-in-law possibly. It remained for Arthur Walker, aged 19, a bridegroom of only a brief period, to stimulate the terror which is felt of mothers-in-law.

During the afternoon he was arrested on the charge of disorderly conduct by Officer Tedder. When he was carried to the station house, instead of seeming to be cast down or dejected his face took on a look of serene satisfaction, and a smile of beatitude hovered around his lips. He appeared to be at perfect peace with the world and glad to be living.

Walker was perfectly sober, and as his disorderly conduct had consisted of nothing more serious than arow with his mother-in-law and other members of the family, Sergeant Lindsay told him he could go on a copy of charges.

Instantly Walker's face fell. Rejection took the place of the smiles of a moment ago.

"If it's just the same to you," said he, "I won't take that copy. Just lock me up and let it go at that. I would just as soon—a little rather, in fact—stay in the station house as to go home to that mother-in-law of mine."

Walker was taken at his word, and spent the night in a cell. He slept soundly and sweetly, like a tired man who had earned a long rest.

Cashier Indicted for Stealing $97,000.

Baton Rouge, La., April 28.—An indictment charging the embezzlement of $97,000 of the funds of the First National Bank of Baton Rouge were returned by a federal grand jury tonight against Oscar Kondert, former cashier of the bank. William Schroeder, bookkeeper, was indicted for aiding and abetting in the embezzlement. Both are under arrest.

SHOT TO DEATH WHILE FIRING ON OFFICERS

John P. Walsh, Augusta Business Man, Killed by Officers Sibley and Gay.

TRAGEDY WAS ENACTED IN THE STORE OF WALSH

Negro Caused Trouble by Swearing Out Warrant for Walsh—When Officers Came, Walsh Began Firing and Was Killed.

Augusta, Ga., April 29.—(Special.)—John P. Walsh was shot to death shortly before 8 p. m. at his place of business on the Savannah road, 4 miles from the city, by County Officers W. C. Sibley and J. Robert Gay. The men had been the closest friends.

Recently Wash had trouble with a negro. Today the negro swore out a warrant against Walsh, alleging shooting at another. Returning from a fishing trip Walsh learned of the warrant and became exasperated. He made threats against the negro and others, and complaint was made to the county officers by neighbors and others. They went to Walsh's store to remonstrate with him, and he told them they could arrest him if they desired. After a few further words, Officer Gay told Walsh that he would have to take him in custody, offering to give him opportunity to close his place of business.

Walsh, who was standing behind the counter, fired upon Gay, who dodged to the floor. Walsh then turned his gun to fire upon Sibley. At this moment both officers fired, one striking Walsh in the abdomen and one in the brain. Death was instantaneous. The coroner's jury exonerated the officers.

Walsh was one of the most popular young men in Augusta. He was the son-in-law of Thomas D. Murphy. He was a member of the Richmond Hussars, and was a man of business ability and integrity.

CITIZENS RIDE WITHOUT PRICE

Cleveland Celebrates End of Fight for Low Street Car Fares.

THREE-CENT FARE PROBABLE

New Company Takes Charge of All Lines in the City, and It Is Likely That a Three-Cent Fare Will Be Inaugurated.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 28.—Without price, citizens of Cleveland today are riding upon the street cars. Following the settlement of the so-called war of seven years in which the municipality has been engaged, President Dupont, who took charge of the newly organized Cleveland Railway Company at midnight, announced that free transportation would be granted the people as an evidence of the cessation of the troubles. Incidentally President Dupont is reported to have stated that upon the same date each year an effort would be made to "consecrate" the day in a similar manner.

Downtown Cleveland is torn up physically in the furtherance of the effort to reroute cars and much confusion has resulted.

Three-cent street car fare on all lines operating within the city of Cleveland became a possibility last night at the regular meeting of the city council when a "security grant" was passed under suspension of the rules to the Cleveland Railway Company, a new corporation, which took over the consolidated properties of the old companies.

At the conclusion of the council meeting that body, as a committee of the whole, met the officials of the Cleveland Railway Company, the Cleveland Electric Railway Company, the Forest City Railway Company and the Low Fare Railway Company in the chamber of commerce hall, where the final papers were signed and passed, leasing the property of the Cleveland Railway Company to the Municipal Traction Company, the holding or operating company, for fifty years.

The rate of fare, according to the new grant, shall at no time or under any circumstances be more than 5 cents cash fare or six tickets for 25 cents. It can be made as low as good service will permit. Three-cent fare will, it is expected, go into effect within ten days.

B. H. Robison Made Postmaster.

Sandersville, Ga., April 28.—(Special.)—S. B. Robison has been appointed postmaster at Sandersville over the application of C. F. Harrison, the incumbent and postmaster for Sandersville for the last twelve years.

CAPERS THREW NEGRO FROM THE PLATFORM

Roosevelt Referee Clashes With His Negro Republicans in South Carolina.

NEGROES WERE SEEN TO REACH FOR PISTOLS

Pandemonium Reigned, but Finally a Semblance of Order Was Restored—Friends of Roosevelt Controlled and Named Chicago Delegates.

Columbia, S. C., April 28.—The republican state convention convened here at 12 o'clock today and after the usual temporary organization, recessed until 3 p. m.

Just before the convention was called to order for the afternoon session a negro by the name of E. B. Thompson, a former mail carrier in Columbia, took charge of the chair and was presiding over a recess meeting, at which various delegates were speaking.

Presently Captain John G. Capers, United States collector of internal revenue and national republican committeeman from South Carolina, stepped upon the platform and was introduced by Thompson as "a good democrat."

Capers Threw Negro From Platform

After this the two men faced each other, and Thompson brandished a large hickory stick which he was using as a gavel, in the face of Captain Capers. Capers caught hold of the stick as if to quiet the negro. Seeing that the negro was bent on a row, Captain Capers hurled him from the platform, a distance of about 5 or 6 feet, the negro falling upon his head.

By this time the hall had filled up with delegates and visitors, and there was a rush for the platform as if to do harm to Capers. About a dozen white men and a larger number of negroes, friends of Capers, immediately surrounded him and pushed back those who apparently wished to do him bodily harm.

For ten or fifteen minutes pandemonium reigned, and it is stated that a number of negroes were seen to reach for their revolvers, but so far as was seen, none was drawn.

Resolutions on Bishop Capers.

Chairman E. H. Deas, after hammering on a table for ten or fifteen minutes, finally restored a semblance of order and recognized T. L. Grant, of Charleston, who read resolutions of sympathy on the death of the late Bishop Ellison Capers, father of Captain Capers. These resolutions were seconded by "General" Robert Small, former negro congressman from Beaufort, and Dr. W. D. Crum, collector of the port of Charleston, who pleaded for their unanimous adoption. The resolutions were adopted. Following this, Captain Capers was recognized to read the report of the committee on credentials and nominations.

After thanking the convention for the sympathetic reference to his father, Capers asked that no votes be given him on his father's account. He then read the resolutions, which recommended R. R. Tolbert for collector of internal revenue of South Carolina, in the event that Major Micah Jenkins was transferred to the army, and that the railroads be required to give the same accommodations to negroes that they do the whites.

The resolutions commended the administration of President Roosevelt and the congress, and pledged support to the nominee of the republican convention at Chicago, whoever he might be.

Delegates Not Instructed.

Captain Capers said that he wished the delegates to go uninstructed, and he believed that any good republican could again defeat W. J. Bryan.

The following delegates at large and alternates were read out by Captain Capers, and were elected:

John G. Capers, Greenville; L. W. C. Blalock, Goldville; T. L. Grant, Charleston, and E. H. Deas, Darlington.

Alternates: R. R. Tolbert, Abbeville; Robert Smalls, Beaufort; R. J. Logan, Greenwood; L. D. Melton, Columbia, and R. H. Richardson.

When the resolutions had been adopted and the delegates elected, Chairman Deas adjourned the convention.

The friends of the administration were in complete control of the convention.

After the convention had adjourned Aaron Frioleau attempted to organize a separate convention and elect delegates to Chicago opposed to the administration. This availed nothing, however, as the would-be bolters were present throughout the convention, and took part in its deliberations, protesting only after it had adjourned.

Colorado for Taft.

Pueblo, Colo., April 28.—The republican state convention, called to select delegates at large to the national convention at Chicago, was held here today. The entire state delegation will go to Chicago as a unit for Secretary Taft. The administration of President Roosevelt was indorsed.

Delegates Not Instructed.

Brook Haven, Miss., April 23.—The republicans of the seventh district of Mississippi today elected as delegates to the national convention E. F. Brennen of Lincoln and W. O. Ligon of Amite. They were uninstructed. Five delegates from Copiah county, who did not favor the convention's action in indorsing the present administration, withdrew, but did not organize a separate convention.

Prohibitionists Put Out Candidate.

Statesboro, Ga., April 28.—(Special.)—Failing to get either of the three candidates now in the race for the legislature from Bulloch county to agree to support the present prohibition law, the committee appointed at a meeting of the prohibition element yesterday placed in the race Ed. L. Smith, a prominent merchant of Statesboro. Each of the three candidates in the race before Mr. Smith entered stood for local option.

It is given out that Mr. Smith will make the race on a strict prohibition platform.

TURNING SCREWS ON NEWSPAPERS

Publishers Show How They Are Being Held Up.

TRUST SHUTS DOWN MILLS

In Order to Prevent Competition So That the Prices of Paper May Be Advanced — Republican Congressman Angered by the Showing.

Washington, April 28.—Before the select committee of the house, which is investigating the subject of the tariff on wood pulp as affecting the price of news print paper and also whether or not there is a combination of paper makers in restraint of trade, John Norris, representing the paper committee of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, today submitted further evidence in support of the association's charge that such a combination exists, and that the price of paper has been arbitrarily raised. He refuted the contention of the manufacturers that this increase of price has been partly due to higher freight rates, and submitted a communication from the interstate commerce commission showing the freight rates from the principal mills to the larger consuming points, from which it appeared that with one or two exceptions there had been no increase for several years, and in two instances the statement showed a reduction in rates. The committee will meet again tomorrow at 10 o'clock, at which time Mr. Norris will enter upon the fourth day of this examination.

Shutting Down of Mills.

Mr. Norris began his recital for the day by submitting further evidence regarding the shutting down of mills. Particular attention was called by him to the statement of The Hamilton (Ohio) Daily Republican-News, that it was claimed the Niagara Falls mills were closed down because of "no water." Mr. Norris ridiculed the idea of the claim of no water at Niagara Falls.

Leaving this phase of the question, Mr. Norris quoted a number of publishers as having knowledge that the product of independent mills either had been acquired by large selling agencies or the sale of their output merged.

What Does Hearst Pay?

"Do you know at what rate Mr. Hearst gets his paper?" Chairman Mann inquired.

Mr. Norris said he knew only from street gossip.

Mr. Stafford asked if there had been any talk about Mr. Hearst's contract. Mr. Norris said there had been considerable. He mentioned prices of $1.92, $1.94 and $1.96 per hundred, and said he understood that some comparatively recent settlement had been made, but whether it was an entirely new deal or the result of an old contract providing for a readjustment at a given time, he could not say. He was not, he said, informed as to the length of the contract period.

Mr. Norris volunteered the statement that The New York Journal was not in sympathy with the present inquiry.

Answering further questions, Mr. Norris said the rumored prices to Mr. Hearst were for paper delivered at the newspaper offices.

"In other words," injected Mr. Mann, "you think Mr. Hearst is getting about the same price as The New York Times?"

"That is right," said Mr. Norris, "our contract having been signed three years ago."

At this point the bells rang, indicating that there was no quorum in the house.

"That means," Mr. Mann remarked, "that your self-appointed prophet in the house and spiritual ally (Williams) has demanded that we stop here," he added with some degree of sarcasm, "and in doing so as to help you to hasten this hearing."

Norris Clashes With Mann.

Several times since the hearing began Mr. Mann has made a similar remark, but Mr. Norris did not respond until today.

"If our professed friends in the majority," he said, "were to do what they avow themselves extremely anxious to do, this proposition would have been passed about four weeks ago and there would not have been any roll calls on that account."

"I don't see how you can say you have any professed friends in the majority," Mr. Mann retorted, "considering the abuse you have given the majority."

Mr. Norris protested that he had given no abuse, "unless," he said, "you talk to me as the representative of a number."

"Oh, well," drawled Mr. Mann, dismissing the subject and declaring a recess until 2 o'clock.

FORCED TO LEAVE DEAD BABE

Russian Woman Has Through Ticket and No Money.

Montgomery, Ala., April 28.—(Special.)—Mrs. Katy M. Dorte, a Russian, came into Montgomery today with the corpse of her 3-months-old son in her arms. The child had died a few miles out after being ill only a short time. Because she had no money and her ticket read through to Los Angeles, the mother was forced to leave the babe to be buried by strangers here.

She plead for a new dress as a burial robe for the little one, and in response Coroner Tice has the baby laid out in a beautiful white shroud while the parent is going on to her husband on the Pacific coast.

JERSEY FORCED ALL BRYAN MEN TO STAY HOME

No Friends of Nebraskan Permitted to Go as Delegates to Denver.

CONVENTION IN UPROAR AND BITTER THINGS SAID

Former Senator Smith, Anti-Bryan, Controlled, and Instructions for the Nebraskan Were Voted Down—The Unit Rule Was Adopted.

Trenton, N. J., April 28.—Today's democratic state convention to elect delegates to the Denver convention selected a delegation that is uninstructed, excepting as to voting under the unit rule. A resolution to instruct the delegation in favor of W. J. Bryan was voted down. Former Senator James Smith, Jr., an anti-Bryan man, was in full control of the convention and succeeded by a large majority in defeating the aspirations of Robert Davis, of Hudson county, and James E. Martine, of Union county, the latter a personal friend of Mr. Bryan, who wanted to go to Denver as delegates-at-large.

In a Continual Uproar.

During the election of the delegates-at-large the convention was in a continual uproar and many bitter things were said by delegates against Hudson county, to which Congressman Hamill, speaking for Hudson, denied disloyalty to the state ticket last fall on the part of Hudson, and accused Essex county of having been disloyal to James M. Seymour when he was a democratic candidate for governor against Franklin Murphy.

The following were elected delegates and alternates-at-large.

Delegates: Senator John Hinchliffe, Passaic; Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr., Mercer; James Smith, Jr., Essex, and Howard Carrow, Camden.

Alternates: Michael A. Devine, Atlantic; John S. Bell, Essex; James E. Martine, Union, and David S. Crater, Monmouth.

Unit Rule Adopted.

The proposition to have the delegates governed by the unit rule was adopted by a viva voce vote. This was interpreted at the time as an anti-Bryan movement, as only four of the twenty district delegates were known to be Bryan men. These were the four from Hudson county, where Leader Robert Davis had declared for the Nebraskan.

Just before the convention adjourned, former Congressman Allen Benny introduced a resolution instructing the delegates to Denver to vote for W. J. Bryan's nomination for president. Senator Smith moved to table the resolution and this was done on a viva voce vote.

The convention was presided over by ex-Mayor George A. Viehman, of New Brunswick, who made a vigorous speech.

After the delegates-at-large and alternates-at-large had been chosen, the roll of congressional districts was called and the district delegates chosen at the district conferences and the state committee were announced.

DON'T BE MISLED.

The retail druggists of this country, as a class, are noted for their high standard of intelligence and honorable dealing, but it is a well-known fact that occasionally you will find one who will try to sell you something else when you call for a remedy of established reputation. He forgets that your health is more important than his pocketbook.

For example, when you ask for Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy, don't allow any druggist or drug clerk to persuade you into buying something else in its place. Every time he succeeds in selling you a worthless substitute he makes more profit, but you are humbugged at the expense of your health.

Swamp-Root is prepared only by Dr. Kilmer & Co. Laboratories, Binghamton, N. Y. Don't experiment—If you need a medicine you should have the best.

25 POLICEMEN ARE DISMISSED

Pensacola, Fla., April 28.—For refusing duty Saturday by failing to board cars of the Pensacola Electric Company and protect the non-union men when ordered to do so by the chief of police, twenty-five police officers, comprising the entire day watch, were discharged from service tonight by the board of public safety.

The officers were all given a hearing before the board, and afterwards dismissed by unanimous vote. New men have taken their places in the department.

The provisional company of state troops left here today after a service of ten days. Labor leaders enjoined the city from paying the sixty men and also from paying the livery bills contracted in the hire of teams, but the injunction was served too late, the city officials, anticipating the move, having secured cash from various merchants Monday afternoon and paid off the men.

Another arrest was made today in the attack on a Park line car a week ago, resulting in the shooting of a conductor. W. M. Thompson, a former motorman, was recognized by the man in charge of the car as being one of the attacking party. His bond was fixed at $1,000, which he was unable to give.

COL. SMITH WILL SPEAK AT BAPTIST TABERNACLE

There will be a lecture Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock at Broughton's Tabernacle by Colonel Z. P. Smith, which promises to be one of the best lectures heard in Atlanta this season. He comes to the city as the guest of Enterprise Council No. 1, Jr. O. U. A. M., who have secured the Tabernacle for the occasion, in order that the friends of Colonel Smith may all be given an opportunity to hear him.

STORM VICTIMS ARE GIVEN AID

Both the State and the Federal Government Helping.

TELEGRAMS TO GOVERNOR

From a Number of Cities Damaged by the Storm—Brigadier General Ramsay Potts Receives Answers From Governors of Louisiana and Alabama.

Aid by both state and federal governments is to be given the storm sufferers in Chipley, Griffin, Stinson and Harris City, and any other cities in Georgia which will notify the proper authorities. Yesterday Brigadier General W. G. Obear sent to Stinson bedding and tentage and to Harris City and to Griffin bedding, in response to telegraphic requests sent to him.

Others will be furnished, in a like manner, as soon as their wants are made known.

In response to the telegrams sent out Monday by Brigadier General Ramsay O. Potts, of the department of the gulf, that department has received wires from Governor B. B. Comer of Alabama, notifying him that Alabama appreciated the offer, but was able to cope with the situation through state aid.

Governor Blanchard wired that he would advise in regard to Louisiana later.

Mayor Poer of Chipley sent the following telegram to the department:

"Twenty homes swept away. Twelve homes wrecked. Four killed; two fatally injured. Twenty in hospital. Many slightly injured. Without clothing, food or money to supply what is needed."

As soon as a detailed request is received, tentage, bedding and the like will be furnished by the department from the supply on hand.

Mayor Joyner is in receipt of the following communication from Mayor Poer:

To the Mayor of Atlanta, Ga.—Sir: Our town is in distress! A terrific cyclone struck us about 1 a. m. of the 25th instant, completely demolishing half of our town, leaving death and desolation in its wake.

The utter misery and destitution which confronts us is awful to contemplate. No pen can describe it, and to add to this chapter of horrors we were visited on the 26th by one of the severest rain storms known to this section in years. The stocks of merchandise in the stores unroofed by the cyclone were almost totally ruined. A conservative estimate of damages will reach over $200,000. Will need all the aid we can get. Assist us if you can. Send all donations to H. Magruder, chairman of relief committee, Chipley, Ga. H. A. POER, Mayor.

At the Governor's Office.

A number of telegrams were received at the office of Governor Smith from the storm-stricken sections of the state, and, in the governor's absence, such attention as could be given by the state was arranged for by Executive Secretary Josiah Carter.

In response to requests from Griffin, a quantity of beds and blankets was sent by Quartermaster General W. G. Obear from the state's military supplies. The telegram from Griffin stated that the principal need there was food amounting to about sixty days' rations for seventy persons, and certain clothing, especially underwear and socks, for men and shoes for both men and women. No shelter was needed, and the bedding was the only thing the state had available to send.

In response to similar requests from Stinson and Harris City, in Meriwether county, twenty tents were sent to the former place and thirteen to the latter by the quartermaster general.

Many of the telegrams sent to the governor's office stated there was need of food and clothing, but the state has no fund with which to supply these.

Quartermaster General Obear sent fifty tents to Chipley on Monday in response to directions from Governor Smith.

Send Telegrams Free.

The Postal Telegraph-Cable Company will transmit free on its own lines within the United States telegrams relating to relief of sufferers from the present cyclone in the south, when such telegrams are offered by duly constituted relief organizations, or by officers in their official capacity.

Short Stories of Local Field.

ney Carter Tate, Assistant District Attorneys Henley, Covington and Tate, Clerk Colquitt Carter and Deputy Clerks Jack Stewart and Fred Beers and Deputy Marshal Rhinard, are all in Athens, where federal court for the eastern division of the northern district of Georgia is now being held. The docket is a heavy one, while the number of cases to go before the grand jury organized yesterday is unusually large.

MARIE SHOREMAN, FIVE-YEAR-OLD daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Shoreman, on Hulsey street, near Foundry, who has been seriously ill for some weeks past, is now showing signs of improvement and her parents as well as the attending physician are sanguine of an early and complete recovery.

THOSE WHO SAW ATLANTA'S Remarkable Memorial day parade are commenting upon the excellent music furnished that division which was headed by Wedemeyer's band. Professor Fred Wedemeyer, as conductor, has organized a superb band, as the thousands who hear it each Sunday at Grant park attest. His selections, both classical and rag-time, are pleasing and his friends are congratulating him upon the showing made on Monday.

AT A MEETING OF THE SENIOR CLASS of the Boys' High school yesterday morning Henry G. Bedinger was elected president and Milner T. LaHatte vice president.

THE REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING OF the board of directors and the quarterly meeting of the Home for Incurables' Association, which were to have been held today, have been postponed until Thursday, May 7, when both meetings will be held at the Home for Incurables, the board to meet at 3 o'clock and the association meeting to be held at 4 o'clock.

NO ACTION WAS TAKEN YESTERDAY afternoon by the council ordinance committee on an ordinance changing the manner of electing the park board and creating the office of general superintendent of parks. Chairman Pittman asked for a postponement for two weeks and it was agreed to.

SHORTLY AFTER 3 O'CLOCK LAST night thieves entered the residence of S. J. Miller, 28 Washington street, and stripped the linen from four beds, taking eight sheets two comforts, besides two table scarfs and six towels. How they got into the house without being detected is a mystery.

NEW YORKERS ELATED.

Something Entirely New Tickles Their Palates—Southern Corn Whiskey a Success in the Metropolis.

In these days of widespread knowledge and violent denunciation of commercial dishonesty consumers are more insistent upon genuine quality than ever before. In view of this fact it is encouraging to learn that discriminating and cynical New Yorkers have, at last, recognized that pure southern corn whisky possesses more wholesome food elements and palatable qualities of flavor and fragrance than those strange concoctions they have drank with apparent delight for so many years.

The credit of this reversal of opinion is due to the persistent efforts of the R. M. Rose Company and its energetic president, Mr. Randolph Rose, who, at great expense and in the face of many discouragements, have not only placed corn whiskey on the high pedestal from which the unfair and nefarious practice of adulteration had dragged it, but they also have succeeded in convincing the skeptics of the north that Forefather Corn Whiskey possessed a rare and delicate flavor and greater nutritive virtues than any other on the market.

When the Rose Company quietly rented their handsome suite of offices in the great Times building, at Forty-Second street and Broadway, New York City, those who were apprised of the fact were not inclined to take the project seriously, and many frowned with disfavor on such an unprecedented business undertaking. However, Mr. Rose proved himself to be an originator rather than an imitator, and continued his efforts undabashed. Today Forefather Corn Whiskey is almost a fad so frequently is it ordered, but indications are that the favor it is enjoying is of the substantial, lasting variety.

Commenting on his success, Mr. Rose said: "This proposition, while new to the public, has been revolving in my mind for years. It has been a serious one, too, rather than a mere whim or fancy. I have long been convinced that pure, properly filtered and thoroughly aged corn whiskey was, beyond doubt, the most beneficial beverage derived from grain. Of course, I feel much gratified over the success attained by our famous Forefather Corn Whiskey in New York City. All we ask for it is a fair test, for we know full well its many superior qualities will bring to us all the patronage we desire."

JUSTICE EVANS MADE ADDRESS

Sandersville, Ga., April 28.—(Special.) Justice B. D. Evans, a former resident of Sandersville, delivered the memorial address at the school auditorium yesterday. After paying a high tribute to the confederate soldier, and the righteousness of the cause, Judge Evans discussed at length the position taken by the Daughters of the Confederacy in the matter of erecting the monument to Captain Wirz at Andersonville. He paid a high tribute to Captain Wirz, who died the death of a martyr and who might have saved his life by treacherously implicating Jefferson Davis.

Waynesboro Exercises.

Waynesboro, Ga., April 28.—(Special.) Despite the inclement weather Sunday, the memorial services were held at the old cemetery. Quite a large crowd was present, and for the first time there were held memorial services without an oration. A scripture lesson was read by Rev. C. W. Durden, of the Baptist church, and prayer by Rev. J. H. Scruggs, of the Methodist church. The local militia participated in the exercises and fired the usual salute over the graves. Sergeant M. C. Cohen was marshal of the day.

Memorial Day at Millen.

Millen, Ga., April 28.—(Special.)—The Wayside Home chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy celebrated Memorial day on Friday, the 24th, with beautiful and impressive ceremonies, which were held at the court house.

After the exercises the Daughters, veterans and guests marched to the Masonic yard, where a sumptious basket dinner was served.

School was dismissed promptly at 11 o'clock and marched in a body to the court house, the veterans and Daughters following in line.

The address was made by Judge Ed Brinson.

Exercises at Perry.

Perry, Ga., April 28.—(Special.)—The rain interfered with the memorial exercises here Sunday.

Hon. Walter F. Grace, who was to deliver the address, was too unwell to come. Judge John P. Ross kindly took his place and delivered a most beautiful and touching address in the court house to a large crowd.

Hon. A. H. Cox at West Point.

West Point, Ga., April 28.—(Special.)—Yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the First Methodist church, Memorial day exercises were observed. The fine address of Hon. A. H. PEONAGE CASES MAY BE TRIED

James M. Smith May Be Called Before United States Court.

Athens, Ga., April 28.—(Special.)—The April term of the eastern division of the United States circuit and district court was opened here yesterday morning in the federal building.

The court is presided over by Judge William T. Newman and the other officers of the court are: T. C. Tate, district attorney; J. W. Henley, assistant district attorney; W. C. Carter, clerk; F. L. Beers, deputy clerk; J. D. Steward, deputy clerk; George W. Case, court crier; M. L. Covington and Howard Tate, district clerks.

The greater number of cases on the docket for this session are of criminal character. The number of moonshining cases, postoffice and other federal offenses is about as usual.

It is not definitely known yet whether the cases of peonage against the Hon. James M. Smith, of Oglethorpe, one-time candidate for governor, will be presented this session. These cases, which caused a great deal of interest in the November session of the court, were held over for trial during this session. It is extremely likely that they will come up this session and much interest is manifested throughout the state over the outcome.

R. L. Caruthers, of Wirden, was appointed foreman of the grand jury by Judge Newman.

TWO ADDRESSES MADE BY JUDGE RUSSELL

Judge R. B. Russell, of the court of appeals, is today in Convers, where he is delivering the Memorial day address upon the invitation of the confederate veterans in Rockdale county.

This exercise was postponed until this time in order that Judge Russell might accept.

He was wanted for April 26, but that day was at Midway, Liberty county, making the founders' day address at the historic Midway church," which was erected and consecrated in 1752, and which has been in continuous usage ever since.

This church is now 156 years old, and has the distinction of being the oldest in Georgia, and perhaps south of Virginia.

Last year United States Senator A. O. Bacon was the orator.

It is the custom to have some one directly descended from some of the founders to make the address.

Relief Is Authorized.

Washington, April 28.—The senate today passed a house resolution authorizing the secretary of war to furnish relief for persons in the south who suffered by reason of the recent tornadoes.

CORDELE HEARS THE GOVERNOR

Smith Addressed Audience at Cordele in Interest of His Candidacy.

Cordele, Ga., April 28.—(Special.)—Governor Hoke Smith arrived in Cordele last night at 12:30 over the Seaboard from Statesboro. He was met at the depot by a committee from the Hoke Smith Club, who escorted the governor to the Sirwanee hotel, where he was entertained by the club. During the morning hours the governor received his friends at the hotel, and at 2:30 this afternoon addressed a large crowd in Crisp county's new court house.

Smith supporters were here from seven counties—Dooly, Wilcox, Ben Hill, Turner, Worth, Sumter and Tift.

The governor was introduced by Judge J. B. Smith. The first ten minutes of the governor's speech were devoted to the second term precedent, and then he spoke for some time on the prohibition, disfranchisement and railroad commission questions. The remainder of the governor's address was along the usual lines and was listened to with marked attention. Parties in the audience asked the speaker several questions during his address.

The governor spoke more than two hours, and at the close returned to his hotel, where he will remain until 7 o'clock tomorrow morning, when he will go to Albany to make an address. The Fitzgerald brass band furnished music during the afternoon.

SAID GRADY HOSPITAL WAS WITHOUT A HEAD

Councilman Longino Took a Shot at the City Charitable Institution.

An interesting colloquy took place at a meeting of the council ordinance committee yesterday afternoon, when an ordinance to change the manner of electing the city ward physicians was taken up. An ordinance by Councilman Baskin seeks to have three ward physicians elected by council instead of one from each ward, with salaries large enough to make such physicians devote their entire time to the city work.

Action on the ordinance was postponed, but not until Councilman Pearce had stated that he believed the ward physicians should have headquarters at the Grady hospital.

This called forth the following remark from Councilman Longino:

"I don't know who would have charge of the physicians at the Grady hospital, for that institution has no head, and is the only board that has more power than the council."

LOUIS GOURDAIN MAKES ESCAPE

Mysteriously Leaves Hospital for Insane Near Washington.

WARDEN MOYER NOTIFIED

Handsome Reward Has Been Offered for the Recapture of This Noted Prisoner—Was Once a Prisoner at South Atlanta Federal Prison.

Louis A. Gourdain, who was convicted in the United States court in Chicago of using the mails to defraud and was given a four and one-half years' sentence, was placed in the penitentiary at Joliet and subsequently transferred to the federal prison in Atlanta, has escaped from the hospital for insane at St. Elizabeth, near Washington.

Of the escape Warden Moyer, of the federal penitentiary in South Atlanta, has just been officially notified.

A native of Louisiana, of prominent family and successful in business, Gourdain's arrest upon a warrant charging the use of the mails to defraud created a sensation greater even than his conviction and the sentence imposed. He was taken from the Chicago jail to the penitentiary at Joliet, where he remained until transferred to the national prison in Alanta, where he was received on May 12, 1907. Shortly after he reached the Atlanta prison indications of an unbalanced mind became apparent and an examination by experts resulted in his transfer to the federal asylum for insane near the national capital, whither he was sent on September 12 last.

Gourdain told those about him, from the day of his arrest up to the last recorded conversation with him, that he was a banker and a millionaire. Throughout his case was one of interest to the prison officials in Chicago, in Joliet, in Atlanta and at St. Elizabeth. Just how he managed to evade the keepers at the insane asylum is still a mystery to the officials who have been watching the prisoner, and for that reason, if for none other, every possible effort is being exerted to retake him. A handsome reward is out for his arrest and his Bertillon is being scattered extensively. To those knowing the Bertillon system his description is easy, but to the laymen it is not so readily read. Here is the way Warden Moyer pictures Gourdain:

"Forty-one years old. Dark chestnut-colored hair. Dark chestnut eyes. Medium dark complexion; 132 pounds. Seven teeth out. Measurement 19—15.4—14—6—47.5—9.1—12—26—. Has small freckled mole on top of left shoulder. New vaccination scar 1 by 1, 13 above elbow outer. Old vaccination scar 8 by 1 12 above elbow outer. Small white pit scar at 3 below right lobe. Again, small white scar at 3.5 below left tragus. Circular scar 1.5 by 3 at medium edge of scalp. Tonsorial baldness."

The officials at the Atlanta federal prison are deeply interested in the arrest again of Gourdain, as the question of his mental condition has long been quite a study among them.

Will Not Affect Anderson Mills.

Anderson, S. C., April 28.—A press dispatch sent out from Spartanburg, Saturday night, said that the cotton mills of the Piedmont section of this state and North Carolina would close down indefinitely on July 1, unless there be a speedy rise in the price of cotton goods.

None of the Anderson mills were represented at the meeting of the cotton manufacturers held in Spartanburg on Saturday, and none of the cotton mills of this county expect to close down.

LIBRARY CLASS HEARS ADDRESS

Henry Legler, Director of Wisconsin Library, in Atlanta.

TALKS OF RENTAL SYSTEM

Secretary of the Wisconsin Library Commission Makes Interesting and Instructive Talk to the Southern Library Class at Carnegie Library.

Henry E. Legler, secretary of the Wisconsin library commission, director of the Wisconsin library school, conducted by the commission, and one of the best known figures in the library world, made a valuable address yesterday before the southern library school, and a suggestion of his which gave rise to general and agreeable discussion among the faculty and students was the "rental" system.

It is probable that this system will be suggested to the library trustees for introduction at Carnegie library, and patrons of the institution, especially readers of fiction, will be interested to know what it is.

The Old System.

According to the present custom at Carnegie library only two or three copies of each new work of fiction, as soon as it comes from the publishers, is bought by the library, and these two or three copies must be sufficient for the entire library patronage in turn. The number of copies of any new novel purchased must be limited, because purchasing funds are limited, and fairness to other classes of readers who prefer other classes of literature must be considered. No library, indeed, could afford copies enough of any one new book of fiction to gratify all its patrons in a short time.

The Rental System.

The rental system which obtains now in many of the large libraries of the country is as follows:

The library buys the same two or three copies of new fiction which are placed on the regular circulation shelves. When a request is made for this particular book, the member is referred to the regular shelf. If the two or three copies are out, he is told then that he must either wait for the return of one or he has the privilege of taking out one of fifteen or twenty copies on another shelf, for the use of which he will pay a cent a day for the time he keeps the book out.

Thus the member is not "required" to pay for the use of any book if he is willing to await his turn, but if he wishes prompter service the books "for rent" are at this command.

The fifteen or twenty books for rent, as soon as they pay for themselves, are placed in general circulation.

Librian Favors System.

There was much discussion among the faculty after Mr. Legler's suggestion, which was not a new idea to the faculty, but is to the general public not informed of library conditions elsewhere, and Miss Rankin, librarian, expressed herself emphatically in favor of the innovation here.

Eruptions.

There is only one way to get rid of pimples and other eruptions.

And it's simple and easy enough.

Cleanse the blood, improve the digestion, stimulate the kidneys, liver and skin, by the same means at the same time.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills are the medicines to take—this statement is confirmed by the largest volume of voluntary testimony in the world—by the experience of thousands whom these medicines have permanently cured.

Christopher H. Johnson, 196 Ashley Ave., Charleston, S. C., says: "My face was covered with pimples. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills and they cured me."

Accept no substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills, for no substitutes act like them.

BIG REVIVAL MEETINGS AT BARNETT PRESBYTERIAN

The revival meetings now in progress at the Barnett Presbyterian church, corner Hampton street and Bradley avenue, are attracting the attention of people from all parts of the city. Evangelist Frank D. Hunt is preaching the pure, old-time, unadulterated gospel with mighty power. The climax in the meeting was reached last night when the evangelist mounted the platform after the song service, and said, "How many of you have gone aside for special prayer or this meeting today?" And when only a small per cent of the audience arose, Mr. Hunt, closing the Book, said: "I came here with a special sermon for you tonight, but this is no time to preach, let us spend the service in prayer, confession, and testimony." It is likely that such a prayer service was never before held in the Barnett church. Services are announced until Wednesday night, and will be conducted each day at 3 and 7:30 p. m.

After much untiring effort and considerable expense the Chicago Glee Club and Trombone Quartette, which is now in the city or the Chautauqua at the Grand, has been secured to lead the music and render several special selections in the service next Wednesday evening.

Hanged for Wife Murder.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 28.—William McCleod McDonald, alias Smith, of Gosport, England, was hanged here today for the murder of his common law wife, Mrs. Bessie Hyslop, whose throat he cut with a razor September 18, 1907, upon discovering that she had been receiving letters from a man in England.

A HUMAN ENGINE.

Without good fuel the 20th Century Limited would travel little faster than a common yard engine. It takes good fuel to develop power, endurance and speed. Every ambitious man is anxious to push forward, to get ahead, yet many are "coaling up" on food prepared with lard, regardless of the fact that lard is indigestible and really clogs up the system, just as poor coal clogs the grates with clinkers. Don't eat lard-soaked food; eat food prepared with COTTOLENE, a vegetable oil cooking fat, so pure, wholesome and easily digested that physicians recommend it even for invalids. "COTTOLENE shortens your food, lengthens your life" and you will travel farther, swifter and easier on it than on food prepared from the fat of the hog.

12,000 VOTERS HAVE QUALIFIED

Registration Books for Primary Election Will Close May 23.

Over 12,000 voters have registered for the coming elections with Tax Collector Andy Stewart, and the indications are that the registration will go over 16,000 before the presidential election comes off in November.

For the primary election of June 4 the books will close ten days ahead, on the night of May 23. This is done in order that a copy of the registered voters may be furnished the election managers as prescribed by the state democratic executive committee.

After the June primary the books will be reopened for the elections of the fall. There is almost a constant stream going into the office for this purpose, and the indications are that the high water mark will be passed before the primary date.

$11,500 GIVEN IN WEEK'S TIME

New Tabernacle Infirmary May Be Ready by July First.

The new Tabernacle infirmary, on Luckie street, which is one of the buildings of the new Tabernacle enterprise, continues to receive donations. Last week the Atlanta Baptist Woman's Union, which is composed of women from all the Baptist churches of the city, unanimously agreed to contribute $1,150 to the new building fund. This amount will be given for the privilege of naming the ward in the infirmary for crippled and deformed children. The ward will contain from six to ten beds, and will bear the name of the Atlanta Baptist Woman's Union. The union will also cooperate with the infirmary in maintaining the ward. This amount added to subscriptions made during the last four weeks makes the amount received during that time $11,500.

Dr. Broughton, the president of the infirmary and the head of the new Tabernacle building enterprise, feels very much encouraged, and is very grateful to his friends for the manner in which they are supporting him in the erection of this new building.

When the new building is completed and furnished, it will cost something like $50,000. The work is proceeding very rapidly. The plastering is now about completed, and the work of putting on the finishing touches will soon begin. It is hoped that the building will be ready for occupancy by the 1st of July.

The board of lady managers, with Mrs. W. H. Wiggs as president, had a meeting Tuesday and planned for a great linen shower, to be held in the month of May, when it is expected that the people of Atlanta will supply an abundance of linen to equip the new building.

About $15,000 is needed to complete the work, and Dr. Broughton and his associates are at work to obtain this amount. The whole subscription to the new Tabernacle enterprise, including the amount spent for the new infirmary building, will amount to something over $150,000.

GOSSIP AT THE CAPITOL

The prison commission has about twenty-five or thirty cases on its pardon docket which it will take up next week, among them a number of murder cases in which the applicants have been sentenced either to be hanged or to life imprisonment.

The case of chief interest which will come before the commission at this time is that of Harry E. Lyles, of Waycross, who murdered his wife and child several months ago, and who has been sentenced to be hanged on June 21. Lyles has made application for commutation to life imprisonment.

THE CAMPAIGN AS VIEWED AT RIVAL HEADQUARTERS

Governor Hoke Smith will address the voters of Fulton county in Atlanta again Friday evening, May 1, at the new building of the Atlanta Buggy Company, on Means street, near Marietta street.

It is recalled Governor Smith recently addressed a large audience at the Grand on Friday, April 17. Yesterday he spoke at Cordele, today at Albany and Thursday at Bainbridge, coming to Atlanta Friday from the last named city.

At the Smith headquarters Campaign Manager Griffin stated all reports coming into the headquarters were satisfactory.

At Brown's Headquarters.

At the headquarters of Hon. Joseph M. Brown, in the New Kimball, the number of callers, from all sections of the state, were more numerous than usual. Mr. Brown received them, and had personal assurances from them as to their support and the condition of their county and section of the state.

Campaign Manager J. R. Smith stated that the mail for Monday and Tuesday was 25 per cent heavier than the previous week, and that the state was being thoroughly organized by those indorsing the candidacy of Mr. Brown.

GAINESVILLE BROWN CLUB.

Gainesville District Forms Brown Club With 543 Names.

Gainesville, Ga., April 28.—(Special.) A Joe Brown club of the Gainesville district was formed here tonight. W. B. Sloan was elected president. About two hundred attended the meeting, at which time the lists were consolidated and it was found that 543 names had been enrolled. A committee of fifty was appointed to solicit other members.

The meeting then adjourned to the first Tuesday in May, at which time the Gainesville club will be consolidated with the county Joe Brown club to be formed then. Many mechanics and laboring people were present tonight.

MILLIONAIRE ARRESTED.

Varn Accused of Deserting Young Wife at Pensacola.

Pensacola, Fla., April 28.—W. W. Varn, the millionaire naval stores dealer, who has successfully eluded all efforts to bring him back to this state from Texas on the charge of desertion of his young wife and infant, is again under arrest. This time he is a Pine Level, Ala., and a deputy sheriff is there and has him in custody, but is experiencing difficulty in getting him out of the place, owing to habeas corpus and other proceedings.

Varn left Pensacola a year ago, about three months after wedding a beautiful young Spanish girl. He went to El Paso, Tex., where he was later arrested for desertion, but through various proceedings has never been brought here for trial.

INJUNCTION IS DENIED.

Judge Newman Makes Decision in Columbus Waterworks Case.

Columbus, Ga., April 28.—United State Judge Newman's opinion in the Columbus waterworks case, which has been pending in the courts for years, was handed down today. The judge sustains the report of the master, and denies the injunction prayed for by bond holders of the Columbus Waterworks Company to prevent the city from issuing waterworks bonds.

The injunction is denied upon the condition, however, that the city buy the present plant of the Columbus Waterworks Company in whole or in part, as may be determined at a fair valuation. A portion of the property is in Alabama, and it is a question as to whether the city could utilize it. Only recently the city signed a contract providing for an artesian well system, and the court's opinion may complicate matters considerably.

DR. GEORGE GRIMES DEAD.

Prominent Physician of Columbus Called by Death.

Columbus, Ga., April 28.—(Special.)—Dr. George J. Grimes, one of the most prominent physicians of west Georgia, died in his room at the Rankin house at 10 o'clock this morning. He was taken ill last night. He was a brother of the late Congressman Thomas A. Grimes. He was about 55 years of age. He was not married, and leaves no brothers or sisters.

Gold Found on Kilgo Place.

Gainesville, Ga., April 28.—(Special.)—Through an error, the statement was made in the published reports of the finding of a lump of gold near here, worth $400, that it was found on the farm of Thomas A. Kilgore. This should have been Thomas H. Kilgo.

OWN MEDICINE TASTES BADLY

Colts Administered It and It Had Ghastly Effect

Cristall Pitched So Well That Locals Were Lowered With Three Hits, the Fact Telling Tale. Our Goat Taken in Fifth Inning.

WHERE THEY PLAY TODAY.

Birmingham in Atlanta, Ponce de Leon park. Game called at 3:30 o'clock.

Nashville in Montgomery.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Montgomery 7, Atlanta 0.
Birmingham 4, Nashville 1.
New Orleans 2, Little Rock 0.

SOUTH ATLANTIC RESULTS.

Jacksonville 3, Savannah 1.
Augusta 11, Charleston 2.
Macon 5, Columbia 4.

The Crackers were about due yesterday, and the Colts, taking advantage of this, handed it to us good and strong, getting some retribution out of a 7 to 0 defeat, with the home team as the vanquished. They handed us a bundle of our own medicine, and the effect was decidedly ghastly.

The Atlanta outfit got but three measly hits. That about relates the tale. Billy Crystall had us. There was nothing to it, and at no time could we start one of the famous rallies, although the local band of athletes worked hard for it, trying to push over something.

Montgomery began hitting Johns in the fifth, and little by little hit more, and scored more, until at last it had to be given to them without overmuch gasping.

Strive as they did, the Crackers couldn't get wise to the Colt slabman, and to him must be given the credit of pitching a wonderful game. Yet he had the good fortune to strike the Crackers on one of their off days.

It was off on fielding, as well as hitting, for four errors were amassed by the losers, nearly all of them counting heavily for the opposition.

Fifth Got Our Goat.

There was nothing to it for four chapters, and it had begun to look like we were going to take another shut-out for ours, when suddenly, in the fifth, the smashup arrived, and right there and then our billy goat was safely taken to cover.

A brace of misplays, mixed with a hit, set Jim Ryan to cavorting on the coaching lines, which gave him his only chance in the game, a lame shoulder keeping him out of more strenuous action.

Perry singled, and when Persons hit to Johns, the slabman tried to nab him at second. The ball went to center field, and ePrry had the bag. Pepee sacrificed, and Messett put one to Bill Dyer, the ball finding an opening between his props and journeying thither, while Perry and Persons journeyed over the rubber.

Three hits and another error gave the enemy two more in the next. Baxter singled, likewise Greminger, and the twain doubled swiped. Perry's hit to right counted Baxter, and McMurray's bad handling of Becker's throw gave Greminger a run.

Messett walked in the seventh, and Cristall singled. Henline sacrificed, and Hassett flied to left, scoring the catcher. Baxter's single counted Cristall.

Persons hit safely in the eighth, and in trying to snuff him off first, Johns heaved the ball to the grandstand, with the result that the base runner went the full route.

Otto Jordan again played a a snappy fielding game, with his nine chances all accepted, more than one of them most difficult.

This Hassett, who took Ryan's place in center, robbed us on two occasions, with Jim Fox his victim both times. Jim smote them good and hard, but by brilliant work Hassett landed what looked good for hits.

BIRMINGHAM IS HERE FOR FOUR-GAME SERIES

After having suffered a stout shove down at the hands of the Crackers, the Montgomery team has departed the city to give place to the Birmingham Barons, who open a four-game series this afternoon.

While the Vaughn outfit hasn't appeared on local soil yet, it is judged from its movements that it is some stronger than the capital city crowd, notwithstanding the fact that the legislators completely submerged it at the opening of the season.

There's the dashing Demont to be reckoned with, the hard hitting Meek, the new demon catcher Raub, who has been hitting some; Downey, the third baseman, who so far has been clever with the slapstick; Molesworth, who seems to have his eye on the ball, and some others.

But still the pinch-hitting proclivities of the locals make them well able to offset the heavy brand of their new opponents, who, after all, may not be able to find the pill so stoutly when arrayed against our hurling talent on local soil.

This will be the last series the team will have at Ponce de Leon for some time, the long road trip to follow the last engagement with the Barons on Saturday.

The Crackers then go to Montgomery for four games, to Nashville for four and then the west draws their footsteps thither. Little Rock, Memphis, Mobile and New Orleans to be visited in order.

SMITH DENIES TRADE OF FOX

Report That Meek Would Come Here Seems Fairy Tale.

Bill Smith said last night that there was nothing to the report that Jim Fox would be traded to Birmingham for Big Meek, and denied that the local club had ever considered such a trade. Smith has no desire to get Meek, as he is satisfied with the present infield.

A story from Birmingham in another column is to the effect that the hitting first baseman will probably be turned loose by Vaughn, but there is no chance of his coming to Atlanta.

As far as is known, the only talk of any trade for Meek grew out of a kidding bee Smith had with Vaughn at the league meeting here last winter, the Birmingham manager asking Bill what he would give him for the first sacker. Bill's offer was only several hundred dollars and the Birmingham father removed a large laugh. There was no serious intent in the conversation.

TRAVELER TEAM PICKED BY FINN ALREADY YET

Pitchers—Buchanan, Walters, Hart, Eyler, Connolly.

Infield—Connors, 1b.; East, 2b.; Page, ss.; Hess, 3b.

Outfield—Thiel, lf.; Speaker, cf.; Collins, rf.

Utility—D. Stark.

BARONS HAVE A STAR IN THEIR NEW PITCHER

New Orleans, La., April 28.—(Special.) Robinson, the new pitcher who left his happy home in Donaldsonville, La., to join Birmingham's Southern League team at Atlanta, is a comer of the canniest kind. Last year he was one of the mainstays of the Jackson Cotton States Club, and this spring he has been amusing himself by pitching for a club he organized at Donaldsonville. Robby's club licked everything in that neck of the woods, and several New Orleans semi-professional clubs. He fanned fifteen men in last Sunday's contest, won by his club.

Manager Frank cut his squad down by releasing Utilities Bob Tarleton and Tom McClellan to Bill Phillips' East Liverpool club, in the P. O. M. League, and has only sixteen players now.

Mike Finn stated tonight that he would have liked to have secured Robinson or some good twirler, as with the release of "Bucky" Thiel, Finn has only fourteen men on his club. While all the other clubs are scrambling for men to strengthen their teams the local manager is simply endeavoring to get those he has playing together.

KANSAN RETURNS TO KANSAS.

Native of Georgia Is Sent Back to His Home State.

Willis Sharp, a long time record clerk at the United States penitentiary, and one of the most popular as well as one of the most efficient workers on Warden Moyer's staff, has been transferred to the record clerk's desk in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kans. The same order from the department in Washington cites that L. J. Fletcher, record clerk at the Leavenworth federal prison, has been directed to report to Warden Moyer, in Atlanta, for assignment to work. The order is effective May 1.

Record Clerk Sharp is a native of Kansas, and the transfer takes him back to his home whence he came to Atlanta some years ago. Record Clerk Fletcher, who has been in Leavenworth something less than six years, is a Georgian by birth, and in making the change indicated like Mr. Sharp he comes again among friends of his boyhood days.

AUBURN TAKES ANOTHER GAME

Mercer Loses Again, but Made a More Creditable Showing.

Columbus, Ga., April 28.—(Special.)—In a game full of ginger and a very decided improvement over yesterday's contest, Auburn defeated Mercer today by the score of 6 to 2. The game was in doubt up to the eighth inning, for at that time the score stood 2 and 2, and excitement ran high among the many supporters of the two colleges. In the eighth inning the Alabamans scored twice, however, and this turned the tide of battle. Both teams were in better form than on yesterday, the improvement in Mercer's condition being especially noticeable.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

VAUGHN GETS NEW MAN; WILL CAST MEEK ADRIFT

Birmingham, Ala., April 28.—(Special.) Manager Vaughn today purchased Charle Holmes, Louisville American Association catcher, .275 hitter. He will join the Barons in Atlanta.

The purchase of Holmes forecasts the request for waivers on Henry Meek, Birmingham's first baseman, who last season led the league in hitting, pasting the pellet as hard as .341. The playing of Douglass on first today will be continued indefinitely.

Meek has been unable to get down to the proper weight, and his running and fielding are even less efficient than last season. In addition, he has evidently forgotten the knack of stinging the ball, his record so far being .220.

Your Money Back

If Kodol fails, get back what you pay. Note our guarantee. It must digest all food, at once and completely. It must do all that the stomach should do—do what nothing else does—else it is free.

There is no such a thing as a cure for dyspepsia. We might as well talk about a cure for lame ankles.

Nature must do the curing. And Nature will do it when given the chance.

Tonics and stimulants may seem to help for a time. But their effect comes only from spurring the stomach to action. And weakness cannot be cured with a spur.

One must relieve the stomach. Let Kodol do, for a little time, what the stomach fails to do.

Help it as you help a lame ankle. Rest it, as you rest other organs that need to recuperate. And stop the irritation of hard, undigested food.

You will be surprised to note how quickly the stomach can regain its strength.

All modern treatments for indigestion aim at this relief. But they aim in different ways.

Some advise dieting. That brings partial relief by omitting some elements which the stomach can't digest.

But the omitted foods are important. The body requires many food elements. When you cut some of them out you are robbing some part.

How can Nature restore digestive strength if you deprive it of nourishment?

Another common way is to take pepsin, or digesters which depend almost solely on pepsin.

That helps a little for pepsin digests albumen. But only part of your food is albumen. Pepsin can't digest starch; it can't digest fat. What will become of them?

It is essential to have a digester which completely digests all food. That is Kodol. There is nothing else which contains all the needed elements.

A perfect digester can be put up only in liquid form. That is why Kodol is liquid. And, because it is liquid, like the digestive juices, its action is almost instant.

This is very easily proved.

Take Kodol after the meal, and note the absence of pain, of fermentation, of gas. It is evident that the food is digesting.

Or mix Kodol with food in a test tube, under proper conditions, and one can see it digest. Not part of the food, as with pepsin, but all of it.

You can find no other digester which will meet such a test, for there is none.

Will you use a digester that goes but half way? Or will you give to the stomach that complete relief which comes only from the use of Kodol?

Our Guarantee

You may prove, without the risk of a penny, what Kodol can do. Buy one large bottle, and ask your druggist for the signed guarantee. If the results are not satisfactory, take the empty bottle back and your druggist will return your money.

This offer is made on the large bottle only, and to but one in a family. That will amply prove how much Kodol means to you. Then please tell your friends who need this help how easy it is to obtain it.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1.00 bottle contains 2½ times as much as the 50c bottle.

LEE'S GRANDSON SPEAKS TO VETS

Virginian Pays High Tribute to General John B. Gordon.

CAUSES OF THE CIVIL WAR

Discussed by Capt. Robert E. Lee at Largely Attended Meeting in the Hall of Representatives at Capitol — Banquetted by Washington and Lee Alumni.

Captain Robert E. Lee, grandson of the south's beloved Lee who led the confederate soldiers upon the field of battle, spoke to a large gathering of ladies and gentlemen and old confederate veterans last evening in the hall of representatives at the capitol.

Captain Lee made a stirring address, which brought forth many "rebel yells."

The meeting was called to order by General Clement A. Evans, who spoke of the memorial exercises that had just been held throughout the south. He stated that the firm convictions of the rights of the south grew stronger and more holier to the people who fought for those rights. He said that the old veterans of Atlanta had come together to hear Virginia's distinguished son, Captain Robert E. Lee, the grandson of the south's great chieftain.

When General Evans mentioned the name of "Robert E. Lee" there was great applause.

Following General Evans, Walter McElreath spoke, introducing Captain Lee. He spoke of Georgia's sacrifice in the war between the states, and said no richer martyr's blood was ever shed.

Captain Lee said he greatly appreciated the opportunity to speak to citizens and soldiers of Atlanta.

"The confederate soldier," he said, "gave human hearts as breastworks to defend their country."

He paid a high tribute to John B. Gordon, and the soldiers of Georgia.

He spoke of the war between the states and said it was caused by factional differences between diametrically opposed forces, and the seeds of disagreement had been sowed by the forefathers of those who chose to let the sword settle the dispute. He gave a brief history of the causes that pointed for many years to the inevitable conflict.

He showed how the south did not introduce slavery into the country and said that many leading men of the south before the war deplored slavery. The southern colonies made every effort to keep slavery from their soil.

"Slavery," he said, "was the south's calamity, but not her crime.

"It is an irony of history that the south, that had done so much to stamp out the black stigma, should be so maligned."

Advocated in North.

He spoke of the charge that the south wanted to destroy the union. He said secession was first advocated in four northern states, and that Lincoln had himself admitted that the east and northwest were responsible for the war.

He said the south had made enough sacrifices and if the east had made some there would have been no war between the states.

He spoke of the courage of the confederate soldier and said they never asked how many were the enemy, but where they could be found.

His glowing tribute to the soldier who wore the gray brought forth round after round of applause, which was mingled with many "rebel yells."

The applause became deafening when he exclaimed that he would not give the dear and glorious memories of his dead country's past for all the anticipations of all the nations on earth.

He drew a picture of the return of the confederate soldier to his home, and said:

"I speak not of this sad scene of history to excite malice or hatred, but to point out the sacrifices willingly made by noble women of the south."

He spoke of the camps of the confederate veterans, and said they had built their post-bellum fires to perpetuate the glory confederate bravery had shed on the battlefields of the world.

At the close of the address the old soldiers "fell in" and shook Captain Lee by the hand. While this was going on, the old soldiers, led by "Tip" Harrison, sang "We Are a Band of Brothers," to the tune of "Old-Time Religion."

Captain Lee was the guest of Captain James W. English. Last evening after the speaking he was banqueted at the Aragon by the Atlanta alumni of the Washington and Lee university.

DOCTORS KICK ON AUTO LAW

Claim Grant's Ordinance Will Work Great Hardship on Them.

Several of the prominent physicians, those who use autos in their practice, will make a determined fight against the passage of Councilman Grant's vehicle ordinance.

The doctors were out in full force yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the ordinance committee to make their protests. The ordinance requires that no vehicles be allowed to stop in front of buildings in congested districts; it requires that attendants be left with such vehicles, and an amendment requires that vehicles must stop when a car in front comes to a standstill to let off or take on passengers. The doctors object to these rules.

There were present at the meeting of the committee Dr. James B. Baird, Dr. Floyd W. McRae, Dr. William B. Armstrong, Dr. Cyrus W. Strickler, Dr. C. E. Murphey and Dr. B. E. Pearce.

Dr. Baird said if such a law was passed the doctors would have to either have flying machines or take to underground subways.

Dr. Strickler stated that he would have to sell his auto.

Dr. McRae said the law would almost put many doctors out of business.

Dr. Pearce said it would work a very great hardship.

Dr. T. D. Longino, who is a member of the committee, remarked later on in the meeting that the people who did not own autos had some rights, and should be protected from danger. He also stated that he used the street cars in his practice, and would venture to say there wasn't a doctor who had more business than he.

Because of the absence from the city of Councilman Grant, action on the ordinance was postponed until two weeks.

All reports were satisfactory.

The new officers of the grand council were installed after committee reports were made at tonight's session, and the work of this body was completed.

ROYAL ARCH MASONS MEET

Grand Master Nurnberger Made an Excellent Address on Yesterday.

Brown House, Macon, Ga., April 28.—(Special.)—A large number of prominent Masons were on hand this morning to witness the beginning of the work in the grand council of Royal Arch branch of the order at the temple on Mulberry street. There were many, however, who could not reach Macon on account of the failure of the trains to make schedules and connections. The poor travel was due to the recent heavy rains and consequent washouts along all lines. Grand Master W. H. Nurnberger, of Augusta, was greeted by a large number of the visitors and the local members, and his annual address was heard by those who managed to reach the city.

This afternoon there were many more who came in, and the work to be done in the day's session was rushed forward with success. Committees were sent to their duties this morning, and all other duties of the day composed mainly of the routine work in connection with the grand council sessions were done by the members.

There was considerable matter of a most glowing character concerning the order in the state in the address of Grand Master Nurnberger, and those who heard the speaker had cause to be glad they were identified with the council. Along with the address came reports this afternoon from the standing committees revealing a healthy condition of the council in the state. Among the prominent Masons present this morning were Past Grand Master Meyerhardt, of the grand lodge of Georgia; John R. Wilkinson, J. M. Rushin, J. W. Taylor, T. B. Walker and more than thirty others.

There will be a much larger number at the sessions of the grand chapter tomorrow. Nearly all those who have to do with the council are also chapter Masons, and the work of the body tomorrow will concern a much larger number of members.

THEATERS

"The Man on the Box."

It is less than a week now until the Giffen company, which will present the "Man on the Box" at the Grand, beginning Monday night, May 4, will return to the city for the summer season and in consequence there is joy among the regular theatergoers of the city.

"The Man On the Box" played for an entire season at the Madison Square Garden theater in New York and was rated as one of the season's successes.

At the Bijou.

Miss Cuba Niblo, assisted by an evenly balanced company, is presenting "Dora Thorne" to well pleased audiences this week at the Bijou. The four performances so far have drawn large and enthusiastic audiences, but this was to be expected, as Bertha M. Clay's novel, from which the play was dramatized, is probably one of the most popular and widely read books of this decade, and every one was anxious to see just how the interesting story would be handled in its stage form.

Mary Marble and Little Chip come back to Atlanta next week and will be seen at the Bijou in Joe Weber's production, "Dream City." They are returning from a highly successful tour of California and the northwest, their first visit to that country in seven years, when they were starred in Hoyt's "A Milk White Flag."

At the Orpheum.

Next Friday night will be a special occasion at the Orpheum, for the entire vaudeville company has prepared a playlet for amateur night and will present it at the close of the regular bill. Welch, Francis and company, who are doing "The Flip Mr. Flop," will be at the head of the travesty sketch and it promises to be a scream. The bill this week is proving a popular one. Harry B. Lester is the most popular man on the bill and his monologue with songs and stories is making a decided hit. "The Bandit," the melodramatic sketch offered by Hawley and company, is a thrilling bit and an oddity in vaudeville, and the other sketch, "The Flip Mr. Fop," is a daughing success. The Bison City Quartet is proving how good singing is appreciated, and the whole bill is more than ordinarily pleasing. Last night was a special benefit for the Boys' Club and the program promised drew a big crowd.

SAYS LADSON CUBAN LAND IS IN SPLENDID CONDITION

Attorney W. D. Thompson Makes an Investigation for Receivers of the Neal Bank.

Attorney W. D. Thomson, of the firm of Candler, Thomson & Hirsch, counsel for the Central Bank and Trust Corporation, receivers for the defunct Neal bank, returned yesterday from Cuba, where he spent three weeks in making a personal tour of investigation in regard to the Ladson property on the island, upon which the Neal bank made a loan of $120,000.

While in Cuba he made an extensive tour of the island property with a view of judging its value, ascertaining as to who occupied the property and whom the tenants acknowledged as the owners. He found the property to be worth, in his estimation, several times the amount loaned upon it by the bank. In every instance he found the tenants recognize C. T. Ladson, of Atlanta, as the owner of the property, and the entire affair to be in first-class shape. Attorney Thomson made a special investigation as to the titles to the property and found them to be in true legal form and to show unquestionably that the property was as represented and eminently satisfactory.

Macon, Ga., April 28.—(Special.)—A meeting of the supporters of Governor Smith was held in the headquarters in the old Exchange bank building tonight, with President Thomas Felder presiding. The club is already said to be as strong as the supporters of the governor could hope for and they have committees now hard at work. There will be no let-up in the campaign until the close. Members of the Smith Club claim a large number of supporters since the address here last week by the governor.

MAINE WOMAN MAKES OATH IN REGARD TO STATEMENT

In connection with the intense interest manifested by the public at large in the theory of L. T. Cooper as to the human stomach being the source of nearly all ill health, the statements of Mr. W. D. Spaulding, of Hallowell, Me., one of the oldest and best-known druggists in that state, and of Mrs. Frederick Harvey, a well-known nurse living in the same place, will be interesting to thousands of persons who are today suffering from ailments directly traceable to the stomach. The fact that these statements are made voluntarily, under oath, removes all element of doubt. The statement follows:

"Hallowell, Maine, July 20, 1907.

"To the Cooper Medicine Co.,

"Dayton, Ohio.

"Gentlemen: The policy at Spaulding's drug store is to gain the perfect confidence of the public by never recommending any medicine or treatment until its virtues have been fully established. The Cooper Remedies were to us an unknown quality, we were very skeptical of their medicinal value, and it was not until several of our customers had received such beneficial results from their use that we could no longer doubt their value that we consented to take the agency for the Cooper Remedies in this territory, heartily indorsing the same.

"Herewith we give the testimonial of a lady whose case came under our personal observation from her being a regular customer, and she says:

"'Gentlemen of the Cooper Medicine Co., Dayton, Ohio: It is with pleasure I recommend your New Discovery medicine, of which I have taken the contents of three bottles, and can today eat anything without inconvenience to myself. For a number of years I had suffered intensely with severe headaches, sour stomach, indigestion, pains in my side, and complications which made it exceedingly hard for me to accomplish even my household work. Physicians had given me dozens of prescriptions, which failed to accomplish a cure or even relief. Your New Discovery medicine advertisement attracted my attention, and I purchased a bottle of the medicine, which I took according to directions and before it was half gone I felt very much better; when I had taken the contents of two bottles I gained courage to eat many things which for years I had denied myself, and found they caused me no ill effects. Today, after having used three bottles of the New Discovery, I can eat anything, and feel that I am a well woman once more, and therefore would advise any one to take Cooper's New Discovery, for I feel sure it will cure them.'—Mrs. Frederick Harvey, Hallowell, Me.

"We indorse the above testimonial, under oath, as being correct.

"W. D. SPAULDING.

"Testimony before me under oath this 22d day of July, 1907.

"GEO. A. SAFFORD,

(Seal.) "Notary Public."

The Cooper medicines have proven eminently satisfactory wherever introduced. We will be pleased to explain their nature to any one wishing to know about them. We are agents. —Jacobs' Pharmacy.

WATER-POWER POSSIBILITIES.

One of the important possibilities in the Appalachian forest reservation movement is the suggestion of the ultimate establishment of the center of the cotton weaving industry of the United States in the southern Appalachian section.

This suggestion, which is wholly reasonable, comes from the United States forestry bureau, and is predicated upon the tremendous indicated horse-power of the streams whose sources lie in the southern Appalachian watershed.

In its interesting presentation of the matter, the forestry bureau says:

It is estimated that there is at least 2,800,000 indicated horsepower developed by the streams which have their headwaters on this watershed, and more than half of this indicated power is available for economic development.

Only a comparatively small part of this has been made use of yet, but the portion that has been utilized has been one of the most important factors in the recent industrial development of the south. In the future the use of this power and its value are bound to increase tremendously. Manufacturing plants are constantly increasing in number in the region, and it is reasonable to expect that in time the center of the cotton weaving industry in the United States may be moved from the streams of New England, where it has remained for so long, nearer the source of supply for the raw material.

The development of the cotton weaving industry in this section has already reached marvelous proportions in a comparatively short period, and we have long confidently predicted that ultimately the bulk of its manufactures would come closer to the cotton fields.

That developed water-powers will be one of the chief factors in the growth of the industry in the southeastern Atlantic states cannot be questioned. And there is enough power in the water rolling down the Appalachian mountain sides to turn spindles sufficient to eat up the south's entire cotton crop.

It is apparent, however, that prospects in this direction will depend largely upon the preservation of the sources of the streams through which these important water-powers are to be developed.

Even today, owing to forest denudation, there are few streams furnishing water-powers, which maintain themselves evenly throughout the year. As a rule, in the summer season they run so low, both in the south and New England, as to make it necessary to supplement them with fuel power.

Thus has the destruction begun, and forest preservation is the only thing that will check it. The longer it is delayed, the greater will be the ravages, consequently longer the period required to build up the stream sources.

Here is a world industry, or the growth of a world industry at our very doors, dependent upon the appropriation by congress of a few million dollars to establish the Appalachian forest reserve.

And this industry, involving hundreds of millions, is but one item in the many, development of which is chiefly dependent upon the success of the reservation movement.

The south cannot afford to let this project fail, for failure means the loss of future billions.

The people of the whole south must not only see to it that it does not fail, but that it is carried to sure and speedy success.

Why Diamonds Don't Fluctuate.

Here and there has been noticeable the tendency among Americans, ever canny at a trade, to postpone a prospective purchase of diamonds in view of rumors that these precious stones would soon be available at a lower price. The good business man does not relish making investments of this important nature if there is the remotest probability of the sum thus expended decreasing from its original value.

An interview recently given The New York Herald by Louis Abrahams, president of the great London diamond syndicate that controls 98 per cent of the world's diamond output, brings a definite end to this uneasiness, with the positive assurance that the stability of prices is absolutely assured.

Mr. Abrahams, who is on a visit to America, explains that the financial stringency and consequent slackening in demand for diamonds in America has limited the production and given rise to the reports that a fall in price will follow. Contradicting this misconception, he says:

That is an erroneous idea. In reply to numerous inquiries the De Beers company, the Premier company, of the Transvaal, and the syndicate itself have all issued official statements announcing unequivocally their purpose to maintain prices at their normal levels. As the concerns named substantially control the world's output, it seems to me this assurance ought to be accepted as conclusive and it should allay all nervousness on the subject.

Assurance from such high authority seems to put the matter out of the realm of debate or speculation.

On the other hand, there is a well-grounded prediction from London that prices for diamonds will rise appreciably in the month of July. It would seem, therefore, the part of wisdom for intending purchasers to take advantage of the prevailing prices.

Diamonds represent a form of investment and a medium of exchange approximately on a par, for stability, with gold or government bonds. It is not likely that the influences controlling the market would permit the chance of fluctuation to strike a blow at the very basis of their industry.

Marksmanship vs. a Big Navy.

With commendable discretion, the navy department has not given out specific details regarding the scores made by the fleet in its target work at Magdalena bay.

Enough information has slipped out, however, to justify several experts in the supported assertion that the work of the men behind the guns has appreciated about 100 per cent since we jammed the Spanish vessels into the coast before Santiago.

Such standing puts us on a plane incomparably superior to that occupied by the British, the German or the Japanese navies.

What is the use of a multiplicity of guns, if their operators lack expertness?

It seems to us that the question and its inevitable corollary—the superiority of marksmanship over a great navy—might well be referred to the talented and sincere, but somewhat excitable, Congressman Hobson.

Letters from the People

The Governor and Memorial Day.

Editor Constitution: In view of the fact that much has been said of the war record of the Smith family, does it not seem strange that the governor of the leading state of the Confederacy could not desist for a single day from his campaign-stumping of the state to honor and pay a slight tribute to the heroes who fought, bled and died for the lost cause?

It is a matter of record that no governor of Georgia has ever failed to avail himself of the opportunity to participate in the memorial exercises.

Instead of doing so, Governor Smith was in Statesboro, boasting "Hoke" and abusing "Brown."

Do the people of Georgia want a man to continue as governor who holds so lightly the memory of those who sacrificed their lives and homes for this cause?

We answer, NO!

No doubt those who took part in the civil war, and their sons, will resent such a seemingly intentional slight.

An Elegy on a Country Printshop.

He's taken "thirty" off the hook; it's quitting time for "Slim";
We've closed the shop this afternoon to read the proof on him,
And find it pretty middling clean, a pi line here and there,
But only such a one as apt to slip in anywhere;
His ticket's on the foreman's desk, all figured up, I s'pose.
He had some fat takes and some lean, but that's the way it goes;
I don't know what's his overtime or what his check will be,
I guess he'll strike the average, along with you and me.

He set a measure middling wide—he liked to set that way;
His work was mostly solid stuff, and not much on display;
He should have lived threescore of years, a friend of yours and mine.
It's tough to think some worthless chap is quadding out his line.
He told me nigh a month ago, as cool as anything,
His dupes were cut and pasted up—a middling longish string.
He said he never skinned the shop, and guessed he'd had his share
Of overtime and double price, and maybe some to spare.

He set a proof that showed up clean, and did his work up right.
He never shirked by day so he could double-space the night.
The makeups dumped his matter in, his form is closed, you see;
His galley's empty on the rack, his slug is twenty-three.
We don't know what the cashier's desk will have to give to Slim;
We'll mark a turn rule in the proof and say a prayer for him.
For him the dawn is in the east, it's getting light uptown,
And "thirty's" taken off the hook, the last form's going down!

Queer Capers in the Settlement.

From a near-by settlement a correspondent of The Adams Enterprise writes:

"Two afflictive accidents happened yesterday: Uncle Billy's mule seen an automobile for the first time, an' run away with Uncle Billy and the preacher, who was goin' home with Uncle Billy to help eat dinner. The critter made straight for the railroad, an' got there just in time to throw a freight train off the track; after which, the preacher an' Uncle Billy found themselves in the forks of a tree, all stove up! A Georgia Philosopher.

The Ocee correspondent of The Alpharetta Free Press is something of a philosopher: In a lively column of local news he has these paragraphs:

"Mr. Walter Lee, nearly nineteen years old, says he never caught but one fish in his life, while Miss Nannie Gardner has caught five at one going.

"After a protracted rain it tried to blizzard a little Sunday. The great I Am knows it would not be best for us to come out of winter into summer all at once, and the body must be tempered to summer heat as well as to winter cold. Besides, farther on toward the tropics it would be intolerable if it were not for the bracing northwestern winds.

"Rev. Jackson, colored, of Gainesville, being on his way to Alpharetta Friday to preach, raised his hat to Mentor at a distance of fifty yards. It pays to be polite. It once saved the life of a soldier, the gesture putting his head out of the path of the cannon ball. We wish more of the colored race were preachers, if it would make them polite."

FARLINGER IS IN THE RACE.

His Friends Say He Will Be Elected to Legislature.

The name of A. W. Farlinger was inadvertently omitted, by The Constitution when a list of candidates for the legislature from Fulton county was recently published.

Mr. Farlinger has been in the race all the while, and his friends claim that he will be one of three winners at the June primary.

The candidates for the legislature are: A. W. Farlinger, Henry W. Grady, Alex W. Stephens, Henry A. Alexander, Edward Cruselle, Dr. George Brown, Walter McElreath, Walter A. Sims, Edgar Latham, Charles W. Bernhardt.

BOTH SIDES OF THE RACE AS VIEWED BY STATE PRESS

Hoke Smith and Foreign Immigration.

(From The Ocilla Star.)

Mr. Hoke Smith, governor of Georgia, is an expert in getting out of a box, but if we are not mistaken he will have his hands full in explaining to the people of Georgia his position on the immigration question. Immediately after he was nominated for governor, two years ago, he was much interested in, and much in favor of, foreign immigration. So much so, indeed, that he took a trip to Europe, which lasted some eight weeks, and which was made for the sole purpose of studying the immigration problem and to determine just what class of immigrants Georgia needed. He returned home full of enthusiasm and confident that he had solved the problem.

But just about the time he struck Atlanta the Farmers' Union held a meeting in that city and passed resolutions condemning foreign immigration as detrimental to the interest of the state and especially to the farmers thereof.

After reading these resolutions, Mr. Smith decided not to push the immigration question any further. He shut up like an oyster and was not heard from any further along that line. The legislature met and Governor Smith was inaugurated.

Shortly after the inauguration Representative Tift, of Dougherty county, introduced a resolution in the house of representatives requesting that the governor be invited to address the house upon the immigration question at some time to be selected by himself. Mr. Tift says that he was immediately besieged by the friends of Mr. Smith urging him to withdraw the resolution because it would be likely to embarrass the governor. He consented and the resolution was never voted upon.

Now, what did this mean? It meant, if it meant anything, that Mr. Smith had gotten himself in a hole and that he wanted the immigration question to rest as it was at that time.

Nothing further was heard from Mr. Smith as to immigration until he made a speech at Waycross a few days ago. There he stated that he was not much in favor of immigration, but that he did think that it would be well to get a few immigrants to settle in the counties of Georgia, where nobody but negroes lived. He talked as if he could bring immigrants to Georgia and plant them where he pleased just as if they were fruit trees or fence-posts and that they would remain where he put them. There is not a schoolboy in all this land but who knows that such talk is childish and absurd.

But within the past few days new tidings as to his position on the immigration question have been brought to light.

It appears that our governor is still in favor of foreign immigration at heart and that his silence and his assurance belie his true position on this most important question to the farmers of Georgia? Is Hoke Smith deep down in his heart in favor of foreign immigration, and have his actions, which speak louder than any words which he can utter, shown, that while outwardly he claims to be opposed to immigration, that secretly he has been favoring it all that he can? There can be no longer any question about it. By his own acts he stands convicted of trying in the most artful manner to mislead the laboring men and the farmers of Georgia, as to his true position on this question which is of such vital importance to them.

What are the facts of which we speak? There is in this state a society which has for its purpose, and only purpose, the securing of foreign immigrants to come to the state of Georgia. The name of this society is the Georgia Immigration Association and the chairman is Mr. oJhn A. Betjeman, of Albany, Georgia. Mr. Bejtman is, judging by his name, a foreigner himself and as we have no doubt a most excellent gentleman. In the course of his business of securing foreign immigrants to come to this state to settle and in raising funds for that purpose it is necessary for Mr. Betjeman to do a great deal of traveling over this state and other states. The society of which he is chairman felt averse to paying his traveling expenses and to avoid this what did Mr. Betjeman do?

He applied to the Georgia railroad commission for permission to accept from the railroads of this state free transportation.

The railroad companies make money transporting immigrants and a number of them were willing no doubt to give Mr. Betjeman free transportation if the rules of the railroad commission had not forbidden it.

Now, when this immigration agent applied to the commission for the right to accept from the railroads free passes what did the commission say to him? Did they reply no, Mr. Betjeman, no laboring man in Georgia has this right, which you ask of us; no farmer in this state can do this thing which you want to do, and we will not permit you to do so? They gave no such answer.

They permitted Mr. Betjeman to accept all the free passes that he could get. This Hoke Smith railroad commission, which he said must work in accordance with his views or be discharged, gave their assistance to the securing of foreign immigrants to Georgia, and more than that, they kept their action a secret from the people of this state, whose servants they are.

Mr. R. F. Duckworth, president of the Farmers' Union, has written a letter, in which he puts it squarely up to the governor and in which he uses the following strong and unmistakable language:

"It looks to us like a scheme by which the administration hoped to thwart the will of the public and force upon the people foreign immigration which they were so strongly opposing."

In view of these facts it is not surprising to us that Mr. Smith has been averse to discussing the immigration question.

"By Their Lives Ye Shall Judge Them."

(T. M. McIntosh, in The Brunswick News.)

It is sometimes well to measure two men, who are aspiring to positions of honor by their own lives; by their failures and successes; by their achievements and the lack of it, and by other material factors that make men great.

In a recent issue of The Thomasville Times-Enterprise appears a very strong card from Dr. T. M. McIntosh, one of the best and purest men in Thomas county in which he compares the life-work of Governor Smith and his opponent, Little Joe Brown.

The doctor says:

"In your issue of 21st and others, you speak of 'Hoke maligning and belittling Joe's character and ability.' That your readers may have a clear idea on this matter, I must take issue with you, for Mr. Smith has never said a thing against Mr. Brown's 'character.' He did not assail his character when he spoke here to an audience that filled to overflowing the court house. Nor has Mr. Smith assailed Mr Brown's character at any time. He has ridiculed Mr. Brown's mental ability and the deeds of his life, as below those which should be possessed by men who had been or should be governors of Georgia.

"One's moral character can be the best with little mental ability. One may possess great mental ability and no moral character. Some possess both in a marked degree. The absence of one does not imply the absence of the other; the possession of one does not imply the possession of the other. There are many men of fine enough moral character to fill the gubernatorial chair if that alone were sufficient. Either of the editors of The Times-Enterprise have achieved, and will achieve more unaided than Mr Brown has achieved with all the aid that his inherited wealth and parental influence gave. Yet I am sure that neither of the editors of The Times-Enterprise ever expect to be governor. Yet either of them have the moral requirements for the position Mr. Smith has not assailed Mr. Brown's moral character; he has his mental ability."

"Trying to Get Immigrants Anyhow."

(From The Nashville Herald.)

Whoa, back, Buck! Here's the immigration question again.

We thought that question had been laid on the shelf. The people have passed judgment on it and condemned Hoke Smith's efforts at bringing over the dagoes, and he had apparently dropped the subject. But lo and behold, a prowling newspaper reporter in Atlanta has discovered a secret order issued by Hoke's successor to Joe Brown, Guyt McLendon, allowing the railroads to give the immigration commissioner, Mr. John A. Betjeman, a free pass.

When President Duckworth, of the Farmers' Union, got onto it he got onto it sure enough. The Farmers' Union, you remember, started a fight on the immigration movement and Governor Hoke pretended to "drop it like a hot brick." But it now appears that he is helping the immigration agent in a secret way. Duckworth says:

"It looks to us like a scheme by which the administration hopes to thwart the will of the public and force upon the people foreign immigration which they were so strongly opposing."

Of course, Guyt rushes into the newspapers and says Hoke didn't have anything to do with it, and didn't even know anything about it. But as Duckworth says:

"In view of Governor Smith's well known attitude, proclaimed everywhere by him, that he would incontinently fire any member of the railroad commission who disagreed with his views in the matters of the administration of that department, it will not do for Governor Smith to seek to escape responsibility in this matter.

"Governor Smith put the people on notice that he primarily would be responsible for the orders of the railroad commission, and, as this nefarious and discriminating order is so closely in keeping with the governor's views on the immigration question, as formally announced by him upon his return from Europe, where he went to inaugurate the work which the people of Georgia killed last year, he must assume that responsibility.

"The farmers and laboring men of Georgia are not in the humor to be trifled with in this matter. We are not, and will not be, in politics, but we have well defined views on economic problems, and there is nothing that we more emphatically condemn than the effort to commit the state administration through any of its departments to a proposition that means reduced wages to laboring men and low prices for cotton."

More Campaign Poetry.

(From The Athens Banner.)

The following poem on the gubernatorial situation, written by Mr. G. W. Simmons, of Edgewood, is a splendid summary of the present campaign, and space for its publication is cheerfully given.

The poem is as follows:

The race for governor is warming up,
The result no one can know,
Yet many folks are hoping—praying
'Twill be honest "Little Joe."

We sympathize with the present one
Who fills the exalted place,
To meet defeat at the present time
Would be a sore menace.

Yet the right of choice is guaranteed
To every Saxon son,
Then go your route on election day
And the victory will be won.

The cry: "Old Gang" is an old chestnut;
I've heard it all my life,
You need better things on which to feed
Your babies and your wife.

Give thou no heed to what your hear
About that liquor joke;
Prohib will be as safe with Joe
As it ever was with Hoke.

Prohib is quite a fad just now,
More so than years ago—
We whipped the mighty chief in line
And can do the same for Joe.

These are my candid, honest views,
Set forth in homely verse—
A change from wild to saner things
Will make the times no worse.

"The Governor's Popularity."

(From The Homerville News.)

The state primary held two years ago showed that Hoke Smith was the most popular man in Georgia at that time, or at any other time as for that; but now there are some who seem to have forgotten about that mighty avalanche of ballots that made Hoke Smith governor; and claim that he is not popular any more, and say he will be defeated by a man who has never done any public service for the people, but who has always been the champion of corporate wealth, and who was removed from a position of confidence because he was against the interest of the people.

Here is an incident that happened in Macon, one of the places where they say the governor is not popular, clipped from what The Macon News says about the governor's speech there Tuesday night:

"At the conclusion of his speech Governor Smith said that the people might wish to have a poll taken of the audience, and it was heartily agreed to. Accordingly he asked all who favored him in the race and thought that he was the right person for the office to stand up. Like a wave rolling inward the audience rose to its feet. Over two thousand four hundred persons arose, and stood cheering while Governor Smith bowed his appreciation to the ovation paid him.

"He next called for the Joe Brown supporters to show themselves. Slowly a few arose and were counted. They numbered twelve in all, and among them were some beardless youths who had not reached maturity.

"It was several minutes before Governor Smith was able to make his way from the city auditorium on account of the number of persons who sought his hand and wished to compliment him upon the excellent manner in which he had made the address."

ASK BETTER LAWS FOR STATE BANKS

Strong Presentments of Fulton Grand Jury.

FELONY TO USE BANK'S FUNDS

Would Make It Dangerous for Bank Officials to Invest Depositors' Money in Private Enterprises—Good Words for County Officials.

In the Fulton county grand jury presentments for the March term of the Fulton county superior court, read in open court yesterday morning, that body strongly urged the Fulton county representatives in the legislature to see to it that better banking laws were enacted for the protection of depositors in state banks.

The grand jury specifically recommended "making it a felony for officers or directors of state banks to use money of depositors in any private enterprise."

These presentments went into details in regard to the Neal bank investigation, which presentes indictments against President Thornton and Vice President Manry, soon to be tried, and declared they were astounded to learn that worthless assets were carried forward from year to year as solvent debts, and to hear the state bank examiner say that he was helpless, under the laws, to correct this evil.

This was the most striking phase of the presentments.

Against New Court House.

They began by declaring that the times were not propitious for the erection of a new county court house, as previously suggested, but wanted, instead a fireproof structure built, on the property owned by the county, for the protection of the valuable records now inadequately protected in the office of the clerk of the court and the ordinary of Fulton county. $50,000 was recommended for the cost of such a building.

Following this the subject of county roads was taken up and those in the county commented upon favorably. It was urged that no new roads be built until the present roads are put into good condition, especially mentioning those on the western side of the county.

The medical colleges of the city were inspected and reported upon favorably.

The various county officers were the object of special compliment. In reference to those in the court house and annex the presentments read: "The various officials of the county are faithful, honest, capable and look closely and effectively after the county's interests and are ever obliging and courteous to all alike.

The County Institutions.

The presentments went into detail in regard to the alms house and its management, declaring "that few, rich or poor, enjoy suchb eauties as the inmates of the county's alms house.

The stockade was the subject of brief and complimentary review. The jail was taken up next, and the grand jury complimented Jailer Fain, and recommended more steel bars for the windows, in view of the recent escapes therefrom.

The banking laws of the state were commented upon, as indicated.

Superintendent M. L. Brittain, of the Fulton county schools, was highly complimented upon the county system of schools, as was the school system of the county.

Superintendent T. A. E. Means, of the state reformitory, was also the subject of special comment which was most favorable.

The convict system of the county was mentioned, and the grand jury recommended that their tasks be reduced, also urging that the men be given a more diversified bill of fare.

Judges Pendleton, Ellis, Calhoun, Reed and Roan were taken up by name and highly complimented upon their efficient, valuable and impartial rulings.

After mentioning the justices and other county officers the presentments closed with a complimentary notice to Solicitor General C. D. Hill, who had been of invaluable service to the grand jury.

After thanking the grand jurors they were excused for the term.

BURGLARIES AT TALLAPOOSA.

Postoffice and Several Stores Were Broken Open and Robbed.

Tallapoosa, Ga., April 28.—(Special.)—Burglars effected an entrance into the postoffice here and several stores also, and met with some measure of success. Their raid was made between 9 and 12 o'clock. They first forced open the door of the barber shop of W. M. Miller, on Alabama street, about 9:30, but did not seem to have molested anything.

An attempt was made to force open the rear door of the postoffice, but finding this difficult or a slow process, a club was secured and the large glass was crushed, thus effecting an easy ingress.

Five dollars in money was secured The front doors of the drug store of Dr. F. W. Bruson were pried open and here the night raiders secured over $11 in small change, some cigars and attempted to open the safe, but without success. The grocery store of J. Schandera was also entered by forcing the front door open.

There are no clews to the perpetrators of the crimes, but it is presumed to be the work of boys, for there are no indications of the work of professionals.

MAY TERM GRAND JURY WILL ORGANIZE MONDAY

Great Interest Felt in the Charge to Be Made to This Jury.

The Fulton county grand jury for the May derm of the superior court has been drawn and will be organized in the superior court room by Judge Ellis, on Monday, May 4.

Following the adjournment of the March grand jury yesterday, the names were the subjects of great interest as those who are to serve were anxious to see the names of the men to be associated with them in this important work.

The charge of Judge Ellis on the matters this grand jury must look into especially will be a matter of deep concern.

Just what these will be is not known but it is thought the subject of "near-beer saloons" will be one of the topics touched upon. The complete list of those who are to serve the county under the guidance of Solicitor General C. D. Hill, as announced, is as follows:

D. O. Dougherty, J. E. Carlton, L. A. Beck, Ira A. Smith, C. P.; H. L. Stearns, E. C. Peters, George M. Traylor, J. H. Nunnally, P.; W. M. Terry, John M. DeSaussure, W. W. Dunlap, H. R. F. Sams, S. A. Magill, J. W. Martin, O. G.; A. G. Rhodes, P.; Henry Potts, E. C. Jones, Bl. Hl.; J. S. Akers, Leonard W. Brown, Benj. T. Brown, C. P.; R. J. Guinn, C. P.; S. C. Huff, Cooks; Isaac M. Roberts, O. G.; H. A. Maier, John J. Lynch, M. N. Blount, Milton Dargan, Porter Langston, J. J. Sullivan, F. J. Paxon.

RETURNS BY 6.400 TAXPAYERS

None of Large Holders Are on the Books.

Tax Receiver T. M. Armistead reports that 6,400 of the 25,000 tax payers in Fulton county have made returns of their property since the first of the month and those who have not done so are urged to attend to this matter at once.

Up to date the returns have been small, as none of the larger concerns in the city have sworn to their property.

The books close on the last of June when it is hoped the returns will equal those of last year—$73,478,865.

In view of the recent panic this office hardly hopes, with the depreciation in values, that the returns will be excelled and all will be satisfied if the county holds its own.

SUSPICION, PROTECTION, AND A. BEER MEMORIAL

The Police Court Will Have Its Lively Days.

He Was Under Suspicion.

"The finger of suspicion is now pointing very strongly at you," said Recorder Broyles to Earl Chandler, a Darktown citizen, who was caught escorting a chicken party out late at night."

I'se pow'ful glad ter hyar yer say dat yer s'picis hit am s'picion, Jedge Briles," replied Earl, as a faint smile began to light up the gloom on his countenance.

"Yes, it is suspicion," continued the recorder. "The officer says he caught you out with four hens and a rooster, all dead Dominickers, with the heads pulled off, and you also had a bundle in which were concealed five lady's waists. You will have to do some powerful tall explaining to justify the suspicion."

"Well, hit wus desser way, Jedge Briles," explained the victim of suspicion: "I wus er-walkin' erlong, nebber s'pectin' no truble ertall, when I seed er sack an' er bundle on de side ob de street. I jes natterly stopped. Jedge Briles, ter hab er look at de sack an' de bundle an' I had de bad luck ter be peepin' inter de sack jes ez de perlice cummed up."

"Your explanation is not at all satisfactory," the recorder told him. "I will send you to the stockade for thirty days and mark you return so the people who lost the chickens and the waists can be found. It was a most fowl deed, Earl, and we will not waist any more time on you."

A Rainy Haul.

There is an old adage which says, "Make hay while the sun shines," but it took one Sam Barr, of Devil's Dip, to try to make a little while it was raining. Sam went to a restaurant and got a nickel's worth of as much as you can tote. It was raining hard. He saw in the restaurant a Darktown damsel, who was also buying a nickel's worth of as much as she could tote, and she had an umbrella. She allowed him to escort her home. At her front door she left her dripping umbrella. There were two other dripping umbrellas, and when Sam departed all three umbrellas went with him.

"Now, Sam," remarked the recorder to the prisoner, "the umbrellas are up to you."

"Hit am de truf, Jedge Briles," stated Sam Barr, "dat I had de lubly pleshur ob gwine home wid de lady, and she lowed dat hit wus one ob de happiest cashuns of her life, but jes ez sho ez de good Lawd made dat rain, come down disser nigger ain't tuk no umbrellas, Jedge Briles, an' de lady does er great onjestice ter low dat I tuk her umbrella."

"Thirty days behind the bars for Sam Barr," announced the recorder, "It has long been claimed that it was no harm to take an umbrella, but three at a time bars the statute of limitation. For taking those umbrellas, Sam, you will have to put up or shut up."

A "Beer Memorial."

There was a sound of revelry by night, and it was on Memorial evening in the rear of a residence on South Pryor street. The cook, Stella Jackson, and the butler, Charley Woodward, undertook to give a "beer memorial," possibly as a sort of celebration in memory of the good old days that have gone. They bought a keg of beer (the real stuff) from Chattanooga, and invited a few chosen guests to drink it up and eat away a few sandwiches.

All went well until two uninvited guests dropped in. They also took on a few beers. Then the invited lady guest lost her door key, and she raised a "rough house" about it. Stella, the cook, took umbrage at the row. Later the uninvited lady guest hied off and got a policeman.

Before Jedge Briles, the two uninvited guests swore that Stella, the cook, and Charley, the butler, had sold them both whisky and beer at the "memorial."

Among the other guests were one George Washington, who was supposed to tell the truth, and the "lady in black," who was probably trying to drown her grief in beer. It was the "lady in black" who said to the recorder:

"Hit wus all free, and I drunk ez much ob dat beer ez dey would let me have, an' I wus pow'ful glad ter git hit."

Stella, the cook, stated that Charley, the butler, paid for the "refreshments," while she acted as the hostess of the evening. She denied that she sold any liquor.

"Hit wus jest er beer mermorial," stated Charley, the butler.

The recorder fined Stella, the cook, and Charley, the butler, each $15.75, which they paid.

THE WEATHER; SLIGHTLY WARM

Chilly Winds Will Gradually Depart to Let Summer Come.

The weather: Conditions favor fairness, slightly warmer. The storm area has moved to the extreme north and is centered over Lake Superior.

The old saying, "there is a calm after the storm," seems to be just a trite affair, that is to those people who experienced the chilly winds in Atlanta yesterday. No one seems to have any objection to a wind provided the laws of nature would allow humans to go bareheaded. There is one young man in the city who is swearing violently at the gale. While walking up Peachtree street the other night his hat was given a swift fling, landing in the window of the second floor of the Candler building. It remained there until morning, but that did not prevent a crowd from collecting to watch the spectacle.

Booty of Thieves Was Recovered.

Americus, Ga., April 28.—(Special.)—Two hundred dollars in currency and a wagon load of groceries and miscellaneous merchandise was unearthed this morning by Police Chief Feagin, where burglars had concealed it. A grocery store was robbed Saturday night of money and merchandise aggregating several hundred dollars, and this morning the articles were all recovered and the negro thieves arrested, one confessing the transaction and directing officers making search.

MORE BETS LAID ON THE CONTEST

Two to One Is Offered on Brown in Fulton County.

The $300 which was placed with The Constitution Saturday by a supporter of Governor Smith to be wagered on the state against Hon. Joseph M. Brown was covered yesterday morning by a supporter of Mr. Brown and the $600 placed in the hands of a responsible party.

Later in the day a supporter of Mr. Brown placed $150 with The Constitution to be wagered that Mr. Brown would receive more votes in the state in the primary of June 4 than Mr. Smith. This was covered in the afternoon by a supporter of Governor Smith and the $300 placed in the hands of a stakeholder satisfactory to the two parties to the wager.

Late in the afternoon another supporter of Governor Smith placed $450 with The Constitution to be wagered that Mr. Smith would carry the state.

Harry E. May, of Schaul and May, has deposited with The Constitution a wager of $1,000, which he wishes to bet against $500 that Mr. Brown will receive more votes in Fulton county in the primary of June 4 than Governor Smith.

The Constitution has nothing to do with any of these transactions and makes the foregoing announcements merely as an accommodation to the gentlemen concerned.

FAILED TO MAKE AN INDORSEMENT

Anti-Saloon League Discusses Candidates.

WILL MEET AGAIN ON FRIDAY

Some Wanted to Make an Indorsement for Governor, While Others Claimed That Prohibition Was Not an Issue in Governor's Race.

The executive committee of the Anti-Saloon League of Georgia held a secret meeting yesterday, and after some discussion, failed to make any endorsement of candidates.

From what leaked out after the meeting, it seems that the chief matter taken up was an effort to have Governor Hoke Smith indorsed. Those who wanted conservatism and asked that the committee take no radical action at this time, deferred action for the present.

It was agreed to meet again Friday night, when definite action may be taken.

The meeting lasted nearly two hours, and was presided over by Dr. A. R. Holderby. Reporters were refused admission, and when an adjournment was taken, the members declined to discuss what had taken place.

Called to Discuss Candidates.

The meeting was called by J. B. Richards, assistant state superintendent of the league, for the purpose of discussing all state candidates, from the governor down. Most of the discussion was about Hon. Joseph M. Brown and Governor Hoke Smith, candidates for governor.

It is said that W. Woods White introduced a resolution calling for the indorsement of Governor Smith, with other candidates mentioned incidentally.

Rev. M. J. Cofer and Superintendent Richards, it is said, spoke in favor of the resolution.

Dr. W. W. Landrum thought such action might be unwise. He said that he was personally for Governor Smith, but he did not believe the committee should take any action. He stated, however, that if a majority of the committee favored such a resolution he would sign with the majority. He left before final action was taken.

"Prohibition Is Eliminated."

Dr. Millard sided with Dr. Landrum, saying that the prohibition feature of the campaign had been eliminated by the statements made by Mr. Brown, candidate for governor. He did not think the league should indorse. Governor Smith as a prohibition candidate when there was no prohibition issue.

The remarks of Dr. Millard are said to have met with frequent applause, which called forth interruptions from Mr. Smith's advocates.

Conservative speeches were made by Dr. S. R. Belk, William D. Upshaw and others. Mr. Upshaw made an earnest plea for conservatism, it is said, which met with much favor.

During the discussion some one remarked to Dr. Millard:

"I am not talking prohibition. I am talking politics."

In the midst of the animated discussion, it is stated, a motion to adjourn was made and was carried.

All members pledged themselves to secrecy.

Another meeting of the committee will be held Friday, when there will probably be further discussion of candidates.

WINGARD FINED AND BOUND OVER

Was Brought Before Judge Broyles on Three Charges.

When Ed Wingard, the man who after refusing to be served with a warrant Monday afternoon, later assumed temporary charge of Judge Owens' court, appeared before Judge Broyles to answer to two charges of disorderly conduct and one of assault, Tuesday afternoon, he knew instinctively that this was one court he could not run to suit himself and he was correspondingly meek and submissive.

As matters turned out he was right. Judge Broyles, after hearing the evidence, fined Wingard $25.75 on the charge of assault on Mrs. Lena Connor, and bound him over under a $300 bond for resisting service of warrant in the hands of Bailiff Taylor, and $300 for cursing Officers Holcomb and Barefield.

The evidence showed that Wingard had attempted to cut Bailiff Taylor with a knife, and had afterward refused to be tried by Judge Owens. He pleaded that he was drunk, and did not know what had happened Monday. He denied, however, making any improper proposal to Mrs. Connors.

BUNCH OF JAIL CASES FOR JUDGE CALHOUN

City Solicitor Lowry Arnold and his assistant, John W. Ball, are busily engaged preparing between seventy-five and a hundred jail cases which are to be tried before Judge Calhoun, in the city criminal court, which convenes for the May term on Monday.

A majority of these cases are of a minor nature, several of them being blind tiger charges.

CROPS DAMAGED BY THE STORM

Much Cotton Destroyed by Wind and Severe Rains.

There was considerable crop damage as a result of the recent storm, according to information at the office of the state agricultural department.

Commissioner Hudson stated that in the storm area much cotton had been destroyed by the wind and severe rains and in several sections replanting would be necessary. Other reports are to the effect that much green fruit was blown from the trees, though little definite information has yet been received on this subject.

WILD DRUNK COSTS HIM $100

W. H. Reynolds Heavily Fined for Trouble in Front of Hotel.

W. H. Reynolds, the barber, who went wild in front of the Marion hotel Monday night and frightened two ladies and fought a team of men, was arraigned in the police court yesterday morning and fined $100.75 by the recorder.

Reynolds pleaded that he was crazy drunk and did not remember what he had done.

Several prominent citizens spoke in behalf of the prisoner, stating that he had recently lost his wife and probably drank to drown his sorrow. He had always born a most excellent character and had never been in trouble before.

The ladies did not appear in court and their relatives did not care to prosecute.

The recorder stated that if Reynolds had not shown a previous good character there would have been a stockade sentence in addition to the fine. Reynolds wept during the trial and offered to apologize to everybody whom he had offended.

Bridge Tea.

Miss Lora Chapin, of Richmond, Va., was the guest of honor at a bridge party and tea given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. John D. Little, the occasion being one most enjoyable, and every detail expressing artistic taste.

The guests were received in the reception room, where garden roses in crystal vases added to the usual attractiveness of the room.

Bridge was played in the drawing room and dining room adjoining, both apartments fragrant and beautiful in roses and carnations, while in the hallway were potted hydrangeas showing the orchid tints. The top score was made by Mrs. Conklin, the prize a miniature of Napoleon, and the guest prize was a French fan, hand-painted.

Punch was served from a circular table in the dining room, a half circle defined on the table by crystal vases holding pink and white carnations.

The same colors prevailed in the ices and cakes served after the dainty luncheon which the party enjoyed in the library and loggia.

The beautiful young hostess wore a princesse gown of white chiffon cloth, the corsage embroidered and applied in sprays of rose point lace.

Miss Chapin was handsomely gowned in black lace over white chiffon, the corsage embroidered in jet sequins. Her hat of black was trimmed in shaded lilacs.

Among the attractive guests was Mrs. Logan Williamson, whose smart gown was of pale lilac lisse, applied in lace, her plumed hat to match. Miss Tillman, of Nashville, wore blue rajah silk embroidered, and a white hat trimmed in plumes. Mrs. Parks, of Chicago, wore lavender voile and a black picture hat. Mrs. Charles Conklin was beautifully gowned in gray, her hat trimmed in black plumes. Mrs. John K. Ottley wore a French gray voile, the empire coat opening over a blouse of gray net and lace; her hat of gray straw was trimmed in flowers of the pastel shades. Mrs. John E. Murphy wore a ciel blue chiffon cloth trimmed in medallions of silk painted in roses. Miss Gibbs wore a princesse gown of antique lace, with black picture hat. Mrs. Smith Pickett wore a gun-metal gray crepe gown embroidered, with hat to match. Mrs. Milton Dargan wore a pale lilac cloth gown, with hat to match. Mrs. Robert J. Lowry wore a pearl-colored cloth gown trimmed in Irish lace threaded in gold; her hat of cream colored straw was trimmed in roses. Mrs. Carrol Payne wore a cream colored voile and lace gown, her leghorn hat trimmed in plumes and roses. Mrs. Frank Ellis wore a chiffon cloth gown embroidered in point lace; her hat of black was trimmed in white plumes.

Mrs. Little's guests included Miss Chapin, Mrs. Charles Conklin, Mrs. John K. Ottley, Mrs. John E. Murphy, Mrs. Robert Shedden, Mrs. Thomas B. Paine, Mrs. Archibald Davis, Mrs. Vaughn Nixon, Mrs. Robert C. Alston, Mrs. George Crandall, Mrs. Edward Fortson and her guest, Miss Mary Tillman; Mrs. James Dickey, Mrs. Robert Wessells and her guest, Mrs. Parks of Chicago; Mrs. Don A. Pardee, Mrs. Motte Fitsimmons, Mrs. Dan Harris, Mrs. Thaddeus Horton and her guest, Miss Jennie Gibbs; Mrs. Frank Ellis, Mrs. John Clarke, Mrs. William Prescott, Mrs. Harry Stearns, Mrs. Smith Pickett of Albany, Mrs. Harry Atkinson.

Invited to tea were Mrs. Robert J. Lowry, Mrs. Carroll Payne, Mrs. Logan Williamson, Mrs. William H. Kiser, Mrs. Preston Arkwright, Mrs. Hugh Richardson, Mrs. Frank Inman, Mrs. Edward Inman, Mrs. Samuel M. Inman, Mr. C. K. Nelson and her guest, Mrs. W. M. Lewin; Mrs. Floyd McRae, Mrs. Edward Peters, Mrs. Milton Dargan and Mrs. Everett Coleman, of Macon, who is the guest of Mrs. Frank Inman.

To Miss Shull.

Miss Shull, whose coming to Atlanta is a brilliant addition to the young society set, was the guest of honor at the bridge party given yesterday afternoon by Miss Ethel Kelly. The guests included an attractive gathering of the young society set, who played bridge in the drawing room and library, where there were beautiful decorations in pink roses and carnations.

A delicious luncheon was served after the game.

Miss Kelly was lovely in a lingerie gown of white over pink silk, and Miss Shull was handsomely gowned in lavender silk, her picture hat the same color.

Hagen-Galloway.

On Monday evening Mr. T. S. Galloway and Mrs. Janie Hagen were united in marriage by Rev. T. E. Elgin, pastor of the Western Heights Baptist church, 192 Jett street.

The house was handsomely decorated with foliage plants, roses and spirea, and in the dining room the table decorations were attractive in pink, the centerpiece of roses.

Mrs. Martin was gowned in blue silk and lace. Miss Tigner wore Copenhagen blue silk and lace and Persian embroidery. Miss Martin was gowned in gray messaline trimmed with net and silk fringe. Miss Emma Belle Lowndes, gowned in white, served punch.

To Miss Doyle.

Mrs. S. T. Marett's luncheon yesterday was a pretty compliment to Miss Lilly Reese Doyle, whose marriage to Mr. James Dunlap, of North Carolina, takes place tomorrow.

The party numbered six, and the table decorations were in pink. The centerpiece was a bowl of pink roses, the silver candlesticks had shades of the same color, and all the color details were pink.

STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS HIS CONDITION IS SERIOUS

Captain Ray Knight Found Unconscious at His Home, 164 Ivy Street, Tuesday.

Captain Ray Knight, commercial agent for the New Orleans and Northeastern railroad, and widely known in local railroad circles, was stricken with paralysis some time during Monday night, and was found in an unconscious condition in his room at his home, 164 Ivy street, yesterday morning.

Few railroad men making their home in Atlanta are more extensively known and fewer still more generally liked than Captain Knight.

During the war between the states Captain Knight was in command of a company in an Illinois regiment, and with Sherman's army he marched through Georgia. The war over, Captain Knight pitched his tent at Dalton and there made his home. He was successful in business and within a short time became one of the leading citizens of that section of the Empire State of the South.

The war between the states was quickly forgotten by him and with energy and enthusiasm he gave his time and his thoughts to a rebuilding of that his troops had destroyed. Of a pleasant, genial disposition, he was not long in making friends of all with whom he came in contact. A student of conditions existing, he soon became a leader in his city and to him a considerable hearing was given when matters of importance were up for a consideration.

He married Miss Harben, sister of Will Harben, the well known Georgia story writer and novelist, and among the children are some of the prominent persons of the present generation. Miss Nellie Knight married an officer of high rank in the English army, and is now living in that country. She was presented to the king of England. Miss Grace Knight, another daughter, is the wife of Professor Daniel, of the chair of electricity, in the Vanderbilt university at Nashville. Ogden Knight won for his bride Miss Lillie May Angier, daughter of Hon. E. A. Angier, of Atlanta.

Mrs. Knight is in New York city, and was advised of Captain Knight's condition by wire and is now en route home. She will arrive in the city some time during the day. While Captain Knight's condition is precarious, there are chances for his recovery, his attending physicians, Drs. Lawton and Hubbard, saying that their patient's excellent constitution and well preserved anatomy are all well in his favor.

Captain Knight is about sixty-five years of age. He is a member of the Transportation Club and is connected with other associations of that nature. He is widely known in railroad circles throughout the south.

These Are Beauties

Almost simultaneously with our buyer, who did some very interesting purchasing stunts in New York last week, came these lovely things Monday. We won't bore you women with their trade-story. We'll just say they are C.-J.-D. embroidery values of the best type.

What are they? Allovers, 45 inches wide, on Swiss and Mull of the best quality; every piece hand loom work, in designs of artistic and unusual attractiveness---stripes, dots, flowers, conventional patterns, and so on.

Many of them, do you know, are so like handwork you just have to take a good look before you're sure they're not.

Takes a yard and a half for a shirtwaist. For yokes, cuffs, and so on, there's nothing prettier. We can match the fabric perfectly if you want the "goods to go with it."

The price? Ordinarily we'd get $2.25 to $7.00 the yard for this stuff. And it would be excellent value at these figures. Today--any time you come--the prices will be from $1.50 to $4.25 the yard.

How's that?

GRADUATING EXERCISES AT BERRY SCHOOL AT ROME

Diplomas Were Delivered to Five Members of the Senior Class on Yesterday.

Rome, Ga., April 28.—(Special.)—The commencement exercises of the Berry Industrial school are being attended by large numbers of Romans. Saturday night the senior class of the school delighted the large audience with a Shakespearean play. This was the first attempt to make a play a part of the commencement exercises, but it was eminently successful.

Monday afternoon there was a ball game on the school diamond between the juniors and seniors. In all the evening there was a musical and literary program by the students. In all the exercises this year are not only the most largely attended but the most elaborate ever held at the school.

At 11 o'clock Tuesday morning the graduating exercises were completed by the delivery of diplomas to five members of the senior class. The occasion was presided over by John J. Egan, of the board of directors, whose interest in the school and work for its good has been one of the greatest aids to its success. The graduating sermon was preached by Dr. Henry Lewis Smith, president of Davidson college, whose subject was "Education and Its Relation to Life." Those who have completed the course of education and will hereafter be alumni of the Berry school are F. D. Copeland, B. L. Frost, J. M. Lewis, C. A. Milhollin and D. O. Vail.

Judge Moses Wright delivered an address this morning, and delivered the prizes that were awarded for excellence in the various departments.

A gold medal, the reward for general excellence, was received by Forrest Allgood.

SCHOOL CHILDREN GOING TO THE CHAUTAUQUA TODAY

Today is Children's day at the Greater Atlanta Chautauqua. This afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the Grand will present a beautiful picture, filled with about two thousand of the public school children of the city, of all ages and sizes. The program will be a varied one, composed of music by the orchestra, and the Chicago Glee Club, songs and recitations by little Miss Frances Craven Parks. Leland Powers, who heard little Miss Parke recite, said that she was nothing less than marvelous, and that she ought to take his place last night.

Lorenzo Walden, the great magician and entertainer, will conclude the program with an hour of magic and mystery. In the first part of his entertainment, Mr. Walden will introduce a series of pure sleight-of-hand mysteries, many of which are brand-new, a curious watch and a still more curious sequel being one of the best. In part second, Mr. Walden will present some spiritualistic manifestations, necromancy and prestidigitation. All the children of the city will be admitted to this performance at a special rate of 25 cents.

At night will be artists' night, which will bring out all of the musically inclined people of the city. The joint recital by Mrs. Sheridan and Reed Miller, the famous tenor, is an occasion that no musician of the city can afford to miss, besides every one who is fond of good music.

Mrs. Sheridan has not given a recital in Atlanta the past winter, and this will be her only public appearance this season, as she will leave soon for Paris to spend the summer. Mr. Miller is a southern man, and has sung in Atlanta before with great success. He is among the many southern musicians who have met with success and made good in the metropolis of New York.

The Chautauqua management has decided to put the price for all of the matinees at 50 cents to all parts of the house, and the night performances at from 25 cents to $1.

LORENZO WALDEN,
Magician, Who Appears at Children's Matinee This Afternoon.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC WILL BE OPENED IN FALL

Plans have been perfected for the opening of a conservatory of music in Atlanta with a faculty selected from the most competent teachers in the various branches of the study to be found. The conservatory will be opened this fall in a building on Broad street, near Peachtree, which will be devoted almost entirely to musical art.

The faculty practically is complete, with Richard Schliewer as dean. Atlanta people will be particularly interested in the announcement that Mrs. Charles Sheridan has consented to take the chair of vocal culture. Mrs. Sheridan will leave Atlanta within a few days for Europe, and will spend her summer in a North sea town for rest. With the teaching of Jean de Reszke in her European studies, and with her studies under the most competent teachers in America, Mrs. Sheridan makes a valuable addition to the faculty of the new school.

PRAISES THE PLAYING OF HERBERT DITTLER

The friends of Alexander Dittler, employed in the office of Clerk Arnold Broyles of the Fulton county superior court, are congratulating him upon the debut of his 17-year-old son, Herbert Dittler, in Berlin, when his work upon the violin elicited the following highly complimentary criticism from the musical critic of The Musical Courier:

Herbert Dittler, from Atlanta, Ga., a pupil of Theodore Spiering, made his Berlin dbeut at Bechstein hall on Tuesday evening. He played the Bach E minor sonata for violin and piano, the Mendelssohn concerto, a romance by Ondricek, a polonaise by Laub in the Wilhelmj arrangement and Saint-Saens' "Introduction and Rondo Capricioso." Young Dittler is a very gifted violinist; he is only 17 years old, but he already has a very fleet, firm technic and an exceptional, supple bowing. An occasional false intonation at the start was due to nervousness, and not to a defective ear, or a defective method. On the contrary, his method, both for left hand and right arm, is most excellent, and with two or three years' further study Dittler will undoubtedly take a high rank as a soloist, for he plays with ease, freedom and temperament. He has a genuine violin nature, such as is not often met with. I had to leave after the Mendelssohn work on account of other concerts, but I am told that he played the rondo and the Laub polonaise admirably. I recently heard him play the polonaise, and he gave a fine virtuose performance of it, a performance distinguished by a virtuose conception, clearness of technic and dash. Dittler's progress will be watched with interest.

THIS COMPANY PROMISES NON-REFILLABLE BOTTLE

The stock market will soon be flooded with 1,000,000 shares of "The Gehman Company" stock, valued at a dollar ($1) a share, for that corporation was granted a charter, yesterday, in the superior court of Fulton county.

The incorporators are named as H. Gehman, N. A. Giannone, M. J. Summerfield, W. T. Hadlow, the first three being from Fulton county and the last from Ludlow county, Florida.

This company, now granted a charter, is capitalized at $1,000,000 for the purpose of making "Gehman's non-refillable bottle." The principal place of business is to be located in Atlanta. It has long been claimed that there was a fortune in a bottle which, after once being emptied of its original contents, could not be refilled with anything.

The charter was secured through the offices of Tye, Peeples, Bryan & Jordan.

CONDUCTORS HEAR REPORT

What Was Done Before Commission About Charge Made Against Them.

A report made by a committee to the Atlanta division 180 and Georgia division 457, Order of Railway Conductors, sets forth what transpired at a hearing before the railroad commission when steps were taken to investigate a statement which Charles K. Johnson, of the Travelers' Protective Association, made before the commission at a hearing on May 8. Mr. Johnson made a remark which the conductors thought reflected upon them very unjustly.

The report, which appears in full below, shows what was done to give the conductors justice:

To Officers and Members Atlanta Division 180 and Georgia Division 457, Order of Railway Conductors. Your committee, instructed to appear before the Georgia railroad commissioners to see that justice might be done the conductors, beg to submit the following report:

Mr. McLendon, chairman, called the commission to order at 10 a. m. Thursday, April 23. The Seaboard Air Line case was called, attorney and officials asked for a few moments' time, which was granted.

Mr. McLendon said that he would take this opportunity to correct some misquotations or errors in the newspaper reports to which his attention had been called as to what he should have said during the progress of this case on April 8.

Mr. McLendon said that any impression that had gone out from these reports that he had made any wholesale charge against the honesty of conductors was false; that such a thing had never entered his mind, much less been spoken, and that he had been misquoted by the papers; that among his personal friends and acquaintances he had numbers of conductors and that in all of his acquaintances he did not know of a class of men for honesty and integrity for which he held a higher esteem than that of the conductors; that there might be some that were not all they should be, but he did not know of any class that the same could not be said of and if there were cases where fars wre paid on a train and not turned in to the road that the public was more to blame for such conditions than the conductors; that he had some very warm personal friends that were conductors and he would feel very much like slapping anyone in the face that would bring an accusation of dishonesty against those men and that he never would believe such until it was positively proven, and any statement published or otherwise made, to the contrary did not convey his opinion of the conductors and that he wanted to assure the conductors present that no one had a higher esteem for their honesty and integrity than he.

At this juncture the Seaboard officials were ready and their case was taken up and disposed of.

Mr. Charles K. Johnson, the Travelers' Protective Association man who was quoted as making such vile charges relative to the conductors' honesty, asked permission to be heard, which was granted. Mr. Johnson said that he did not mean for anything he said before the commission on the 8th to be misconstrued or understood that he meant that conductors as a class, or as individuals, were dishonest; that he did not intend to convey any such idea, and if he had done so, it was not correct; that so far as the men on this particular train were concerned he knew but little if anything, not having been in that territory or on this particular line of road for the last two or three years, and surely he did not desire anything he said to reflect on those gentlemen in the remotest; that what he did say he meant to show that the officials had not included cash fares, but had made their statement from ticket revenue of the train only and that he had no intention to convey an idea that any conductor was dishonest, for he regarded them as honest a set of gentlemen as there were in Georgia; some of them were his very best friends and he regretted very much that the statement should get in shape to convey the idea it had, that he did say that he was with a party of four gentlemen and that three of the four had paid the conductor personally and the newspaper report read, "Seen the conductor privately," which left the wrong impression as to what he said, and if he should have said anything derogatory to the conductors he begged to withdraw it, for he did not intend it and desired to apologize to the conductors for these errors.

Mr. L. W. McPherson, who represented post C of the Columbus Travelers' Protective Association, said that he had appeared before the commission for the sole purpose of setting the Travelers' Protective Association's right toward the conductors before this commission on account of the statement made by Mr. Johnson, who at the time was not at all well and therefore was not in his normal condition and not being in the habit of appearing before a body of that sort in public and in his zeal trying to save the train, might have made some statements that seemed harsh, but having known Mr. Johnson these many years and his attitude toward the conductors especially, he knew he would not say anything intentionally derogatory to their character and honesty, and after reading a series of resolutions passed by his post, disclaiming any intent of casting any reflection whatever on the conductors, said that he desired to have it understood by the commissioners as well as the conductors that they were regarded as among their best friends and as the highest type of gentlemen and he regretted very much that anything should have occurred that would mar the relationship in the remotest and he trusted it would be received in the spirit given and be satisfactory. Respectfully submitted,

G. W. Evans, H. M. Patton, C. W. Mangum, committee Atlanta division 180; C. D. Knight, W. A. Wooddall, W. J. Reeves, committee Georgia division 457.

We certify the above is a true copy of the committee's report and was unanimously adopted by divisions 180 and 457.

E. A. WARWICK,
Secretary 180.
W. L. ALCUTT,
Secretary 457.

HEAVY SELLING CAUSED DECLINE

July Wheat Closed One and Three-Quarters Off.

Chicago, April 28.—Selling on a liberal scale caused weakness today in the local wheat market, the July delivery closing off 1 3-4c. Corn was off a shade. Oats were unchanged and provisions were 5@7 1-2@10 to 7 1-2@10c higher.

The early wheat market was strong, because of cold weather in the southwest. Later, prices declined, but aside from lower figures at Liverpool there was little in the news of the day to encourage sellers. Primary receipts were small compared with last year, and the world's visible supply decreased 4,600,000 bushels. The market closed weak and near the lowest point. July opened unchanged to 1-4c lower at 88 3-4 to 88 5-8c, advanced to 89 and then declined to 86 3-4c. The close was at 86 7-8c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 92,200 bushels. Primary receipts were 303,000 bushels, against 594,000 bushels on the same day last year. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 205 cars, against 141 cars last week and 575 cars one year ago.

Corn was firm early in the day, because of wet weather in the corn belt. Later prices weakened because of the slump in wheat and the poor demand for cash grain. The close was weak. July opened a shade to 1-4@3-8c higher at 62 5-8 to 62 7-8c, advanced to 63 1-4 and then declined to 62 3-8@62 1-2c. The close was at 62 1-2c. Local receipts were 306 cars, with 26 of contract grade.

Oats were steady all day, because of the reports of heavy frosts last night in Kansas and Missouri. July opened unchanged at 45 1-4c, sold up to 45 1-2 and closed at 45 1-4c. Local receipts were 253 cars.

The provisions market was quiet, but prices were firm, because of a 5@10c advance in the price of live hogs. At the close July pork was 7 1-2@10c at $13.25@13.27 1-2. Lard was up 7 1-2c at $8.27 1-2@8.30. Ribs were 5c higher at $7.10.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 5 cars, corn 71 cars, oats 128 cars, hogs 21,000 head.

Carpenter, Baggot & Co.

New York, April 28.—Our opening was weak at a decline of 12@16 points, which was further increased soon afterwards by continued liquidation in May, forcing this option down to 8.10. Spot houses came in as buyers, and the market steadied up, causing a rally of 10 points. On the advance the south was a liberal seller of the fall and winter months, as they have been for some time on each rally. The weekly weather report, read soon after noon, was bullish, but it had no effect. Absence of demand from outside sources either on declines or advances discouraged locals who supported the market early, and soon after 1 o'clock selling was in evidence by these buyers. Notices, which amounted to about 25,000 bales, were allowed to circulate for a while, but finally wound up in strong hands, some of the issuers being buyers of the May, taking them back at the low level. We see nothing at the moment in the situation to encourage bullish endeavor, except for a natural reaction after such a decline.

New Low Records Made—May Sold at 8.03 Net Lower During the First Hour—Close Was at the Lowest Point of the Day.

New York, April 28.—The cotton market was weak and unsettled today, with prices making new low records, and the close barely steady at a net decline of 13@19 points. Sales were estimated at 275,000 bales.

The market opened weak, at a decline of 12@16 points, with May selling at 8.03, or 19 points net lower during the first few minutes, as a result of notices, weak cables and favorable weather. There was active liquidation at the start, but it was soon seen that interests who had issued May notices, estimated at about 35,000 bales, were buying that position against sales of July at differences ranging from 15 to 20 points, and when it became evident that the notices were being taken care of, the market rallied on covering of shorts. After selling up to within 6@7 points of last night's finals, however, prices weakened again under renewed southern selling, with July and later positions breaking into new low ground during the afternoon, and the close at the lowest point of the day on those months. After the notices were out of the way, May was comparatively idle and steady, suggesting that the speculative interest in that position was practically evened up. Cables from Germany denied yesterday's rumors of short time, but generally speaking, advices from trade sources showed little improvement. The southern selling is considered the unfavorable feature of the present situation, and evidently acts as a check on local bull support. Southern spot markets were unchanged to 1-8c lower.

Receipts at the ports today 11,909 bales, against 11,719 last week and 25,370 last year. For the week 60,000, against 58,757 last week and 73,081 last year.

Spot closed nominal. Middling uplands 10.00; middling gulf 10.25. Sales 469 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, April 28.—Cotton spots quiet and easy. Sales 1,550 bales. Low ordinary 5 1-2, nominal; ordinary 6 5-16; good ordinary 7 3-4; low middling 8 7-8; middling 9 13-16; good middling 10 5-16; middling fair 10 13-16; fair 11 7-16, nominal. Receipts 4,217; stock 164,265. Futures opened quiet 13 to 20 points below the close yesterday, as a result of unfavorable advices from Liverpool, where futures and spots were both down. Cables were to the effect that liquidation was still going on in the Liverpool market. This was offset somewhat by reports from New York that 20,000 notices of May cotton tendered on contract there had been taken care of by spot interests. Longs who depended upon an unusually bullish weather report for the week were disappointed, for, while not favorable, the report was nothing like as unfavorable as had been expected. At the close, which was steady, the future months were 15 to 19 points below the close yesterday.

Dry Goods.

New York, April 28.—The dry goods market was quiet today. Many buyers are coming in, however, and while they are not operating freely, they are stating that they anticipate placing more business in the near future. Exports are quiet with the far east, but a fair miscellaneous trade is passing. Linings remain quiet, save that a slightly better demand is noted from the clothing trade. Cotton yarns are lower.

Liverpool, Cotton.

Liverpool, April 28.—Closing: Cotton, spot, quiet; prices 10 points lower; American middling fair 5.79; good middling 5.43; middling 5.17; low middling 4.83; good ordinary 4.39; ordinary 3.99. The sales of the day were 6,000 bales, of which 500 were for speculation and export, and included 5,300 American. Receipts 9,000 bales, including 1,100 American. Futures opened easier and closed weak.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, April 28.—Another day of declining markets precipitated by an unexpected decline in Liverpool has increased the pessimistic tone as to the future of cotton. The commission houses have been executing many scattered selling orders for southern account all day, with the resulting lowest prices of the year and a depressed and discouraged market. There is a little more demand for cotton goods on the decline and some investment buying in the new crop which has absorbed the southern selling on the way down.

Tenders were made today of some 20,000 bales, which were soon taken up by the spot houses who regarded the low grades here as the cheapest in any market.

STOCKS SHOWED MUCH ANIMATION

Prices of Some Highest Since Before Panic.

Union Pacific Leader in Advance. St. Paul Also Prominent—Hill Stocks Got Benefit of Sympathetic Effect—Large Sales.

New York, April 28.—The stock market today gave a striking demonstration of strength and expanded substantially in volume. The figures of the aggregate sales do not fully bear out the appearance of the extreme animation in the market, which was due to great activity in several selected stocks. These were, at the same time, the most conspicuously strong stocks in the market and were carried up to prices not touched since some time before the financial crisis of last October. Sales also were the largest since the panic period in October. Union Pacific was the conspicuous leader of the movement and its price has recovered more in proportion than any other stock in the list. Today's movement carried with that stock in closest sympathy other members of the transcontinental group in which conditions resemble most clearly those of Union Pacific. St. Paul was especially prominent, but the Hill stocks also got the full benefit of the sympathetic effect. The movement was spotty and uneven, some prominent stocks coming tardily into the movement and some failing to respond at all. In the former class were the metal industrials. After remaining sluggish throughout the early part of the day these stocks were moved upward later, as though to rectify the artificial appearance of the movement. The advance showed every evidence of skillful and resourceful leadership and the conviction was general amongst the rank and file of operators that it had the favor and support of the great powers in the banking, railroad and financial world.

New developments continue mixed in character, abundant money resources on the one hand and continued depression in industry and commerce on the other. The aggressive advance in prices of railroad stocks, in the face of insistent complaints of railroad officials of contracted earnings and government restrictions which hamper efforts for recovery, makes an impressive contrast and suggests a motive of policy designed apparently to assuage public hostility. The indulgence sought for the proposal to advance freight rates, now under active discussion, is a measure in point. That measure was much discussed as a factor in the rise in prices today. Of more immediate effect was the belief that support had been securing for the coming Union Pacific bond issue with large foreign participation. A special argument in the case of St. Paul was the supposition that part of the company's Pacific coast extension will begin earning something in a short time. Northern Pacific was especially strengthened by the revival of old speculative rumors of an intended large extra distribution of profits. The issuance of the call by the secretary of the treasury for return of $45,000,000 of government deposits with the banks, a first installment of $20,000,000 payable on or before May 9, met an expectation long held in the financial district and caused not a ripple beyond some early decline in foreign exchange rates, which were later recovered for the most part. A hardening of discount rates in London was an offsetting factor. The president's message, reiterating contentions which have caused perturbation among the speculative element on previous occasions, was accepted calmly and without effect on stocks.

The unevenness of the day's strength left some conspicuous stocks with not enough vantage ground on the reaction when profit taking set in, to leave any of their gains. The changes show a sprinkling of losses in consequence. The figures of the United States Steel quarterly report were not available before the stock exchange session closed, but the earnings conformed closely to estimates current for several days past.

TO THE COTTON PLANTERS.

President Taylor, of the Cotton Ginners' Issues Circular.

To the Cotton Planters of the South: Cotton today reached the lowest point since January 1, 1903, except from November to May of the big crop year of 1904-05, when it sold 2 cents per pound lower than this. What has caused this decline of 3 cents per pound in spite of the fact that the cotton crop of the world is about 4,500,000 short of last year's crop? The only answer that I can fined is "lack of confidence." The retailer is not buying except as he needs the goods, the jobber is doing the same, consequently the mills have no orders ahead, while last year, and for several years past, they have had orders booked from three to six months in advance.

What causes this lack of confidence? They are afraid we will raise a bumper crop of cotton again this year. Why are they afraid of a large crop? They look at the past. In 1903 we had a short crop and good prices, which was followed by a large acreage and good seasons and a bumper crop. The next year, 1905-06, we had a short crop and good prices, which was again followed by a large acreage and a bumper crop. Had it not been for the September storm in the Mississippi valley and the exceptionally good trade the market would probably have gone to 8 cents or under for that crop. We got a good average price for the good grades in the crop, and a large acreage was set aside for cotton last season, but owing to the weather during planting time the acreage was cut some and crop poor in Texas and Louisiana enabled us to get a good price for the most of this crop. A month ago every indication was that we would have a large acreage this season, and the people did not care to place heavy orders for cotton goods, knowing that with a large acreage and fair season we would produce more cotton than the world needed and the price of cotton goods would decline. They are good business men, and you can't fool them.

How can we restore confidence? In place of planting the same acreage as last season in cotton, plant 25 per cent less. As soon as the acreage report is out in June or even before the trade will know that there will be a moderate crop raised this year and we will have the old-time activity in the cotton trade. Jobbers will place their orders ahead to enable them to supply their trade, and the mills will contract in advance for supplies of cotton and the market will advance much faster than it has declined. The result will be that you will market a crop of 11,500,000 at an average of at least $65 per bale, or a total of about $750,000,000. If the weatner conditions should be unfavorable for the growing crop and it should turn out a million bales less it would sell for 15 cents and bring a total of nearly $800,000,000, and add to this the value of the feed crops that can be grown on the acreage intended for cotton and it will give us another $50,000,000. Suppose that you plant the same acreage as last year and with favorable weather we would likely make anyway 13,000,000, possibly more. What would the price be under the present trade conditions? Not over an average of 8 cents per pound and perhaps lower. Say that it averaged $40 per bale the crop would bring $520,000,000, at least $300,000,000 loss to the south. How to bring about this reduction?

It is not too late yet to plant corn, alfalfa, sorghum cane, millet or cowpeas for hay. Or it will pay you to let the land lie idle for a season rather than plant it in cotton at a loss. Let every planter that reads this article at once arrange to reduce his own acreage in cotton and show the article to his neighbor, or better call a meeting at every country school house in the south and discuss this matter intelligently, then go home resolved that each one will do his part. If you have any neighbors that will not reduce send me their names and I will take the matter up with each one personally. This is no small matter, and I hope that members of the Southern Cotton Association and Farmers' Union will stand side by side in this great fight. With a heavy acreage Wall street will set the price for our cotton crop, with a light acreage we can get our own price within reason. Don't delay, but get busy at once. There is plenty of time yet if you will only do your part. In 1905 by reducing the acreage 15 per cent the price advanced 5 cents per pound, and we can do it again. I will be glad to hear from every farmer that reads this and indorses it.

Do you want to return to the old days of 5-cent cotton? If not, join this movement and we will make the south more prosperous than ever.

GRAND JURY PRESENTMENTS

SPRING TERM 1908.

To Hon. W. D. Ellis, Judge Superior Court:

We, the grand jurors, impaneled, chosen and sworn for Fulton county for the spring term, 1908, have given careful attention to the matters placed in our charge and make these presentments accordingly.

We have examined the public buildings of the county and find them in fairly good condition. It is well-nigh impossible to erect any building for the county of Fulton and the city of Atlanta that will not be outgrown in a few years. We are, therefore, opposed to the erection of a new court house at the present time for the reason that we believe that within a few years, when prosperity shall have again come to our country, we will be able and willing to erect such a building as will then be sufficient for our wants for at least one generation.

We do not think the records in the offices of the clerk of the superior court and the ordinary are sufficiently protected. We, therefore, recommend the erection of a fireproof building on the property owned by the county adjacent to the court house that will accommodate these two offices. We are inclined to believe that such a building can be erected for $50,000 or less.

The bridges of the county are in good condition. The roads of the county generally are in good condition. The county commissioners have gangs of workmen rebuilding and improving the roads that are not good. There is little that we can suggest to our excellent board of county commissioners. We would recommend that no new roads be opened until those that are already in use be put in first-class condition. If this is done, at the present rate of construction, it should be only a very short time before all the principal roads are in the very best possible shape.

The roads on the west side of the county do not seem to have received the same attention as in other sections, and we recommend to our county commissioners that they make an investigation with a view of bringing the roads in the western portion up to as good condition as the other roads. We call especial attention to the South Boulevard road leading from the federal prison to Grant park. It should be improved.

Injury by Railroads.

We call especial attention of the county commissioners to the fact that whenever a county road is broken into by the railroads that the replacing of the road in as good condition as it was prior to its being disturbed is never done. On Marietta street there have been two bridges put in in the last two years and the railroads have thrown rocks on the approaches and left them in rough shape. There was also one culvert built under the Marietta road by the railroad and where this was filled in there has been an ugly mud hole ever since. The value of the road as a whole is damaged by such neglect as this.

Value of Good Roads.

The grand jury of the fall term of 1907 recommended to the county commissioners the desirability of securing the co-operation of adjoining counties, to whose border our excellent roads extend, in the work of improving the roads they have adjoining our own. This is very desirable for the purpose of extending the trade of Atlanta into adjoining counties and to enable the farmers and truck growers of other counties to reach Atlanta, where there is a great demand for farm and garden produce. It is especially desirable that the road to Roswell be made a good one, as by so doing the counties of Milton, Forsyth, Dawson and other counties will have easier access to Atlanta.

The school master and good roads are the most important agencies to advance civilization. The common highways of our country are the veins of commerce and civilized intercourse. They lead to a larger social, educational and economical development of our country. The world's food supply is brought in wagons over country roads. The condition of the roads has much influence upon the market. It is estimated that 92 per cent of all the highways of this country are unimproved and with a country so highly developed on educational lines and so well covered with steam railroad lines, this is a standing disgrace.

The counties of the state of Georgia have never had smooth and hard roadways. Under the present law of working the state's convicts on the public roads there has been much improvement, and we sincerely hope that the law will be allowed to stand and increased work done on the public roadways of the state until there has been far greater improvement.

Medical Colleges.

A committee from our body visited the college buildings of the Atlanta College of Physicians and Surgeons and the Atlanta School of Medicine and carefully inspected them. The committee found them splendidly equipped and in fine condition. The Georgia College of Eclectic Medicine and Surgery, on Tanner street, was closed, as its closing exercises had been held about three weeks ago. The building is an excellent one and seems to be in good condition. These colleges are a vast benefit to the city, bringing hundreds of pupils from all over the country to be here educated and trained for the professions of medicine, dentistry and pharmacy. There is an average attendance of more than 1,000.

Pensions.

We have by committee examined the records and find that they are correctly and neatly kept. We would suggest that a complete list of the surviving pensioners be published in one of the daily papers twice a year so that the public can be well informed as to who are drawing pensions.

Our County Officers.

The various officials of Fulton county are faithful, honest and capable and look closely and efficiently after the county's interests and are ever obliging and courteous.

Alms House.

We sent a committee to examine the county alms house, under the management of Dr. R. L. Hope. The committee reports the buildings and grounds in excellent condition. The inmates are well cared for, have an abundance of wholesome food and a home, which, for beauty and situation, is enjoyed by few, rich or poor. It is a remarkable showing that the county of Fulton, with a population of about 200,000, has only forty whites and twenty-four colored people as inmates of the alms house. This is certainly a tribute to the industry and thrift of the people of Atlanta and Fulton county.

County Stockade.

The entire grand jury, except three, visited the stockade, where the county convicts are kept, and made a careful inspection. The quarters are cleanly kept and the best of sanitary regulations prevail. The prisoners look healthy and well fed. They are treated kindly, but governed firmly, and are made to do hard and useful work, as required by law. The farm surrounding the building, belonging to the county, abounds in fine crops of farm products and vegetables, which are used for the benefit of the prisoners. In the convict farm and the alms house the county has valuable property.

The Industrial Farm.

Fourteen members of the grand jury visited the industrial farm, under the management of Professor T. A. E. Means, and spent several hours in a thorough inspection. This is an institution of which the people of Fulton county should be proud. Its management is splendid and reflects the highest praise upon the able management of Professor Means. His genius for the combined work of teaching and management is wonderful, and the county is fortunate in having his services. A rough piece of hillside land has been transformed into a beautiful farm, where the necessary supplies for maintaining the institution are raised. There are seventy-two boys, from 10 to 18 years of age, kept in the place. Two large buildings have been erected and very nearly all the necessary outbuildings. Last year, besides supplying the inmates with necessary vegetables, more than $2,000 worth were sold in the markets of Atlanta. The boys are all healthy and well cared for and under the kind, restraining and beneficent control of Professor Means and his corps of teachers, ably assisted by Mrs. Means, they will probably come forth well equipped to discharge the duties of citizenship.

We were especially pleased that the boys were being taught by competent teachers the rudiments of an English education. We think it far more important that they should be taught in the elementary branches than that there should be profit made from their labors. If they must be restrained of their liberty, as seems to be altogether necessary, the county owes it to them that they should be educated while thus restrained. There is need of a suitable dairy, which we recommend be built.

We would respectfully recommend to the county commissioners that a competent architect be employed to lay out a plan for a completed institution of this kind, providing ample room for several times the number of inmates as at present cared for, and as necessity requires, permanent, substantial and elegant buildings be constructed to last for many generations, so located that when all have been built the whole will show a symmetrical and well arranged institution.

We repeat, we cannot commend too highly the splendid work being done by Professor Means and Mrs. Means, and beg to say they deserve the confidence and hearty cooperation of the board of commissioners.

The County Jail and Sheriff's Office

We examined the jail and found it clean and well kept, and the prisoners provided with good, wholesome food. Jailer Fain is the right man for the place he fills, being kind and considerate, yet firm, in his treatment of the prisoners in his charge.

We would recommend to the commissioners that all windows should be protected by case-hardened steel bars, which would prevent prisoners escaping, which occurred recently by sawing the soft iron bars now at the windows.

We also examined the sheriff's office, including the jail record, fi. fa. docket, writ docket and sales and claim execution docket. After a thorough examination of these records, we are pleased to say they are correctly and neatly kept and reflect credit upon the office and those whose duty it is to keep them. Their importance can scarcely be estimated, and the general public do not realize, perhaps, how important they are. We wish to stress this point, because of their bearing upon the titles to vast property interests of the public, such as the starting point in tracing titles to property, real and personal, and errors originating here could be fatal to these interests.

We would recommend that our representatives in the legislature secure the passage of a law requiring all sheriffs to keep what might be termed a "sales record," or "sales docket," showing copies of the advertisements of all properties advertised for sale.

Though not required to do so by law, our worthy and efficient sheriff keeps such a record, which is of great assistance to citizens whose property has been advertised for sale.

Our Banking Laws.

Suggested by our examination into the affairs of the Neal bank, we wish earnestly to recommend that our immediate representatives in the legislature introduce a bill and use their best efforts to have it become a law, making it a felony for the officers and directors of state banks to use the money of depositors in any private enterprise.

If it be true that the law making it a felony for any bank to loan to its officers and directors more than 25 per cent in the aggregate of its capital stock, or more than 10 per cent thereof to any one of its officers or directors, applies only to banks of issue, then there is no law in Georgia for the protection of depositors and stockholders. This question must soon be decided by the courts, and if decided in favor of the defendants, the legislature at its approaching session is earnestly invoked to pass a law that will take the question out of the domain of doubt.

During the course of our investigation it came to our knowledge that the Neal bank had been carrying as solvent assets several hundred thousand dollars of notes and securities that were absolutely worthless, and in its report to the state bank examiner these worthless notes and securities have been returned, under oath, as solvent assets of the bank.

We caused the state bank examiner to come before us and were astounded to hear him say that he had no power to require the authorities of the bank to write off such worthless assets or to charge them to profit and loss. Surely such authority should be given him, or else his report of the condition of the banks examined by him, which reports are supposed to be for the information and protection of depositors, become mere travesties, and the office of state bank examiner should be abolished by law. It seems to us that the act approved August 22, 1907, entitled an act to create in the treasury department of Georgia a bank bureau, gives to the state bank examiner and his assistant examiners plenary power over the banks in every particular, and if it does not give this power, it should be so amended as to do so.

The law making it a misdemeanor for any officer or agent of a bank or other corporation to use or borrow for himself, directly or indirectly, the money of a bank or other corporation of which he is an officer or agent without the permission of a majority of the board of directors, or of the committee of the board authorized to act, is so easy of evasion that it is practically worthless. We sincerely hope that all the depositors of the Neal bank will finally receive their money in full and that the failure of the bank, so much lamented by every citizen of Atlanta, will serve at least one good purpose, to wit: to call the attention of our lawmaking body to the woeful inadequacy of the criminal laws on the subject of banking.

Public Schools.

Some of our members had the pleasure of serving on the committee on public schools during the spring term grand jury two years ago. This gave an opportunity to notice the marked and continued improvement in our county school system.

Our committee has visited practically all of the schools in the county. There is no word of censure we could say concerning their management and operation. The citizens in the neighborhood of each school take pride in the schools and all that concern them; there is a friendly rivalry in some of the districts for the betterment of the school buildings, grounds, libraries and education of the scholars. The industrial and beautifying work by the Woman's Club at the Eagan school is specially good; these ladies should be highly commended for their work. There are some cases where the parents do not properly appreciate the opportunities offered them for the education of their children. In one instance there is a family of six children, all of school age, none of whom attend school because the father will not permit them. This, we think, illustrates the need in our state of a compulsory school law.

We found a disposition on the part of the teachers, scholars and parents to beautify the school buildings and grounds and in many instances the grounds do credit to a florist and the inside decorations to an artist. These attractions, in our opinion, in no way detract from the work of a school proper, but are rather the natural outgrowth of education.

The text-books used are prescribed by the state. We are informed they are as good as can be had, but in addition to the regular course of study, we find a great many of the teachers instructing the scholars in much useful knowledge not required by the state.

The sanitary and safety conditions are uniformly good. Attention is given to proper ventilation and cleanliness, and in all two-story buildings the fire drill is taught.

Without previous notice being given, the committee saw a room containing fifty first-grade children cleared in thirty seconds, and a building containing 200 scholars in one minute.

The committee attended a session of the teachers' normal class; a brighter, more willing and more energetic set of teachers we never saw, but the room in which the normal class is held is entirely too small for the corps of teachers. At very small expense, by removing the walls, this room could be enlarged so as to furnish ample quarters for the normal class and your committee strongly recommends that our board of county commissioners make such changes as will give the proper facilities.

Special mention can well be made of the negro schools. In some districts the negro citizens have bought the ground, furnished material, erected and furnished a school building, and their children are receiving good training and a thoroughly moral education, which in the future can have but one fruit, that of industry, peace and happiness between the races. We strongly recommend a consolidation of the New Canaan and South Bend schools; this would be of much benefit to both. In other districts where schools have been consolidated the improvement is marked.

The grand jury is glad of an opportunity to emphasize the many favorable commendations of Professor M. L. Brittain, our superintendent. Too much cannot be said of his energy, faithfulness and ability. Fulton county is to be congratulated on having such a man at the head of our public schools. Our county board of education is composed of five of our most prominent citizens who have given much time to the work and are largely responsible for the very fine system of schools.

Convict Camp.

By committee we examined the Chattahoochee camp. After going over the entire brick plant with Captain Casey and Dr. Green, and being shown the method of work, the committee was much impressed by the immense amount of work turned out by these convicts. In the opinion of the committee the tasks given these men should be reduced. The prisoners, after being on the trot all day, seldom finish their task before 5 or 5:30 p. m. This method keeps the men on the run the entire day, which should not be so. The idea of working under the task system is to do a fair, legitimate day's work and when that is finished for the prisoners to have the remainder of the day to themselves to use as they may see fit. In opinion of the committee there should be a greater variety of food furnished the prisoners, such as potatoes and a miscellaneous line of vegetables. The buildings and grounds seem in good sanitary condition, the bedding is ample and properly cared for.

The committee reports that the troughs used for bathing under the houses should be inclosed so the convicts would not be exposed to the open air. There are now 180 convicts in the camps, about twenty-five of these being white, the latter very properly are housed and fed in separate quarters. In the hospital were found only three or four men, and one of these was confined on account of an injury while working; the others on account of rheumatism or similar troubles.

Justice Peace Dockets.

A committee from the jury spent several days in examining the dockets of the justices of the peace. Nearly all of them are in excellent condition.

We recommend that the cases pending against Justice of the Peace Hopkins in the city court be tried at as early a time as possible, that the truth concerning the charges against him be ascertained so that if not guilty, he have an opportunity of so showing.

The Judiciary.

Our county is to be congratulated upon the splendid ability and unswerving integrity of the judges presiding over our five courts, Judges Ellis, Pendleton, Reid, Roan and Calhoun. They discharge the business of their courts with all possible rapidity consistent with due consideration and careful study. There is no criticism here.

We have been greatly assisted and benefited by the able advice and courteous assistance of our able solicitor, Mr. C. D. Hill, who seems so admirably fitted for the arduous and trying duties of his office.

We recommend that these presentments be printed in The Fulton County Daily Report and the daily papers of Atlanta.

CHILD DIES OF INJURIES.

Little Four-Four-Old Girl Was Hurt in Griffin Storm.

Griffin, Ga., April 28.—(Special.)—Little Mabel Harrison, aged 4 years, died at the Griffin hospital yesterday afternoon, from the effect of injuries received in the cyclone last Saturday morning. The child's mother, Mrs. Randolph Harrison, was almost instantly killed, while Mr. Harrison and another child were badly bruised, but not seriously hurt.

The other injured, who are at the hospital, are doing well, and it is not believed that any of their injuries will prove fatal.

A small negro child died on the plantation of Colonel T. W. Flynt Sunday night. It was blown about 300 yards by the fearful wind and received injuries which proved fatal.

The list of dead now numbers seven for this county.
